Village cracks down on minors smoking

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Antioch officials are trying to curtail smoking by minors in the village.

Village attorney Bob Long read a draft ordinance that would prohibit the use, possession or distribution, not just sale, of any tobacco product to those under the age of 19 years within the Village of Antioch.

Police could charge individuals with local criminal charges carrying fines or community service.

Possession and use charge fines would be $25 for the first offense, $50 for the second and $100 for the third offense and thereafter. Distribution charge fines would be $50 for the first offense, $100 for the second and $250 for the third and thereafter.

Chief Chuck Fagan said he hadn't been consulted, but knew similar laws had been approved in other villages within Lake County. "I have a number of ordinances by other municipalities specific to minor use of tobacco," he said.

Long said the draft ordinance he read was the one in effect in Winthrop Harbor, and added that the community service option does not have to be written into the ordinance.

"Police officers have options as to how to handle situations," he said. "They can call the parents and say, 'do you really want your child hanging around with this group and smoking?' and have the parents pick the kid up. That can be quite effective."

Fagan added that minors can be referred to "teen court" where community service is often part of the sentence. "Antioch is one of the towns that has a teen court," he said. "It's a really good option we have available."

Trustees take oath, standing committees rotate

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Re-elected trustees Larry Hanson and Barbara Porch as well as newly elected Mary Turner took the oath of office to serve the Village of Antioch until 2007. Though there is only one new trustee in the board of director's make up, the most of the standing committees rotated giving all of the trustees different committees to chair.

Trustee Barbara Porch said she welcomed the changes and new challenges. "Everybody will have an opportunity to become more familiar with the different standing committees, and it will benefit everyone," she said. "I am going to miss not being on the senior committee, but I do still plan to attend the meetings as they are posted public meetings."

Turner will chair the planning, zoning and building committee. Porch and Dorothy Larson will also serve on the committee.

In addition to being one of the rotating committees, the industrial, retail committee had a name change to the industrial, retail, civic, redevelopment and communications committee. Porch chairs that committee, along with Bob Caulfield and Turner.

At the meeting, Porch announced that she and Hanson were stepping down from the redevelopment commission, a separate advisory body.

"Some concern was raised about trustees sitting on that commission," she said. "We had the village attorney (Bob Long) look into it, and while there is no legal reason, it didn't seem to make sense to us to make recommendations back to the board in our roles as commissioners."

Porch noted that the name change of the standing committee she chairs ensures the board would be informed about the activities of the redevelopment commission.

Porch

"This will give some other residents an opportunity to serve for the village," she added.

Caulfield, Hanson and Larson will remain as chairs of the finance, public safety and parks committees respectively. Scott Pierce chairs the engineering and senior services committee.

Residents interested in serving on a commission for the village were invited to write to Mayor Taso Maravelas. "Including a resume would be helpful," Porch added.

New budget allows for more police

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

The budget approved for the 2004 fiscal year will allow for a stronger police presence in the Village of Antioch.

Trustee Scott Pierce asked why most of the budget increases were small, but police and water treatment showed increases of 10 percent.

"I want to make sure these increases are to improve services," he said.

Village administrator Mike Haley said those two areas were most in need of the added funds.

"The police department intends to add three officers to the force," he said. "The village is growing, and we now have the extra resources to do that."

Haley also explained the importance of the increase to water treatment.

He said, "Our sewer treatment plant is near capacity. There will be more capital expenses in public works as it pertains to sewer treatment."

When asked about future planning, Haley said both public works and the police department have five-year plans. "We had to get a handle on revenues and projected revenues first," he said. "Now that the village has done that, we can move forward."

Haley said the budget also allows for three or four new vehicles for public works.

Emmons says farewell to longtime teacher

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Emmons School District 33 will bid third-grade teacher Mary Beth Rinaldi farewell at a special assembly on May 21 at 2:30 p.m. in the school's gymnasium.

"It's hard to say goodbye to someone who's leaving after 19 years of having such a positive influence on our school and community," said Supt. Matt Tabar. "You get used to working with someone who has all the experience in that position, and then you start over with someone new."

Tabar said Rinaldi has spent all of her 19 years at Emmons teaching third grade and is a "master" at that grade level.

"She has helped us with staff development, improving our writing skills and curricula review," he added. "She's been on many, many committees and has really given to our school."

The assembly for Rinaldi will be an all-school assembly with the addition of present and former staff members, former students and members of the community who had an opportunity to get to know her over the years. "Anyone wishing to make comments during the assembly will have the opportunity," said Tabar.

Those who are unable to attend the assembly are invited to e-mail, or mail via regular post, comments that will be shared with the audience. E-mail correspondence should be sent to mtabar@emmons-school.com. The school's address is 24226 W. Beach Grove Road, Antioch, IL 60002-2299.

The school is also asking that those who wish to attend the assembly call the school at 847-395-1105.

"This will give the students a chance to recognize her a bit and be a little more involved," said Tabar. "We figured that she's worked with hundreds of students and has helped mold them into positive, educated individuals."

Tabar said first-grade teacher Carla Moser would replace Rinaldi and that someone new will likely be hired for first grade.

"We're working the numbers, but it appears that the first-grade class will be large enough that it will have to be split," Tabar said. "We're going to make the decision at our next board meeting (May 20)."

Fine arts foundation members host public studio tour

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

To ensure the doors of opportunity are open to residents, ten members of the Antioch Fine Arts Foundation (AFAF) are opening the doors to their studios for a public look-see.

The event will take place on May 17-18 from 11 a.m.-4 p.m.

In sponsoring this event, the foundation hopes to further its goal of promoting visual arts. Founder Suzanne Hetzel said, "We can do this by exposing area residents to the artistic talent that lies throughout the community."

In addition to the studio tour, artists will be conducting demonstrations at the AFAF gallery located at 983 Main Street.

Member Pixie Eslinger said, "Many of our members are very active and many of them also teach the classes we offer."

The foundation's membership includes artists and craftsmen from northern Illinois and southern Wisconsin as well as patrons of the arts.

The following are the artists who will be participating and their medium: Joyce Andre, watercolors; Judy Chinski, gallery director, watercolors; John Eslinger, wood artist; Pixie Eslinger, wood sculpture; Hetzel, watercolors; Virginia Morrisseau, encaustic paintings; Catherine Nash, watercolors; Patricia Rodgers, painting and drawing; Roger Shule, painting and pottery and Steve Walker, painting. "Encaustic painting is painting with beeswax," explained Pixie Eslinger. "It gives a very textural feel to the work."

Maps to the various studios are available at the gallery. The gallery is open to the public from 10 a.m.-4 p.m. on Thursday, Friday and Sunday. It is open from 10 a.m.-6 p.m. on Saturday.

The AFAF is dedicated to furthering the creative efforts of its members while spreading knowledge and appreciation of the visual arts. The foundation fosters interaction among artists and the community through public display of members' artwork coupled with demonstrations, classes and workshops.

Pixie Eslinger added, "We really want to bring interest into the community."

Senior citizens ask to stay put

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Seniors who belong to the Antioch Senior Center have made a formal request that the current administration sign a resolution stating it will not move the center. Trustee Scott Pierce, who chairs the engineering and senior services committee, brought the request before the board of directors of the Village of Antioch.

Trustee Mary Turner said, "I think they would like assurance that they can stay there."

The board was unable to take a vote at the May 5 meeting because the item had not been placed on the agenda.

"This resolution could only be binding until 2005," said Trustee Barbara Porch. "We cannot bind future boards."

Discussion moved to the merits of expanding the Senior Center at an estimated $400,000. Additionally, Mayor Taso Maravelas and Trustee Bob Caulfield expressed concern over the expense of staff time devoted to a project of that size that has not been approved by the board.

Senior planner George Sakas said, "A lot of the time that has been spent has gone toward determining the quality of the roof. It's a 23-year-old roof, and we would have to do it anyway."

Trustee Larry Hanson said he thought it was important for the board to keep in mind that Spiering bequest was not just intended for seniors who currently attend the center. "This money was not just meant for today, but for all the seniors in the future, too," he said.

Finance committee chair Bob Caulfield said he was not just "nit-picking." He said, "I've seen half-a-million-dollar projects get slipped into a village. I just want to see to it that the seniors get all the bang for their buck."

Pre-mother's day concert like 'Voices of Spring'

Kudos to the Lakes Area Community Band. The pre-Mother's Day concert, called "Voices of Spring," sounded great and had a lot of special touches.

A clarinet ensemble made up of Kelly Beall, Holly Frederichs, Brian Gravander and Alison Hayles played Pachelbel's "Canon." The flute section played "Habanera" from "Carmen" by Bizet.

Guest guitarist Vince Villalobos, a classical guitarist who spent many years studying the traditional Spanish flamenco guitar style of playing, performed two pieces in the program.

Porch thanked both Festival Arts of Antioch for continuing to sponsor the band and make its free concerts possible, and the Antioch Community High School for both allowing the band to practice there on Monday nights and for allowing the concert to be performed in the newly renovated auditorium.

For those who weren't able to attend this concert, there are five more concerts scheduled between now and mid-October. The next concert will be on Friday, June 20 as part of the FridayFest kickoff events at the William E. Brook Entertainment Center band shell.

Don't forget to put non-perishable food items out by the mailbox on Saturday, May 10 in support of the postal carriers' food drive.

Last year Antioch letter carriers collected 8,800 pounds of food. Postal carrier and Union Steward Todd Erickson said, "It really held the food pantries over the summer."

The food collected by the local carriers will be divided between the Antioch Township Food Bank and the St. Peter's Food Bank. None of the food collected from Antioch will leave the area.

Those with post office boxes can bring in their donations to the retail section of the post office located at 420 Orchard St.

Happy Mother's Day!

SCHOOL DIGEST

Emmons announces valedictorians

Emmons School District 33 announced that more than one graduate has earned the honor of valedictorian this year.

Five students have maintained a 4.0 grade point average for all of sixth, seventh and eighth-grade.

Meryl Weber, Angela Walizer, Brandon Abear, Lindsay Ptasienski and Dugan O'Conner will all speak at graduation. Additionally they will be recognized by the board of education and presented with a remembrance.

Emmons takes names of next year's kindergartners

Emmons School District 33 is taking the names of the incoming kindergartners for the 2003-04 school year.

Children who are 5 years old on or before Sept. 1, 2003 will be eligible.

For more information, call 847-395-1105.

High school changes meeting schedule

Antioch Community High School District 117 has changed its meeting schedule for the month of May.

The regularly scheduled May 6 and May 22 meetings have been cancelled. There will be one regular meeting on Wednesday, May 14, at 7:30 p.m. in the school's library.

A special meeting, a portion of which will be held in closed session, is scheduled for May 20 to discuss legal issues and procedures, practices and ethics for effective board members.

No location or time has been set for the May 20 meeting.

Early childhood screening

Antioch Community Consolidated District 34 offers early childhood developmental screening.

Parents with concerns should consider this. Developmental screening is a brief series of activities and observations designed to identify children who may have a potential problem that requires further assessment.

Screening is available to children between the ages of 3-5 years old and who have not yet entered kindergarten within District 34. To schedule an appointment, call the special education office at 847-838-8422.

Pries sentenced for role in fatal crash

Runaway witness to fatal 'drag race' pleads guilty to leaving accident scene

By BRENDA BALIN-BEITSCHER
Staff Reporter

Andrew Pries

Some might say Andrew Pries, 19, of Antioch, got off easy. On May 5, he was sentenced to six months in jail and 30 months of probation after pleading guilty to leaving the scene of a fatal accident.

The crash took the lives of Jan Rodrigo Legaspi-Buduan, 16, of Lindenhurst, who was driving a black 1999

Honda Prelude, a gift from his parents. His passenger, Alex Brown, 16, of Lake Villa, also died when the car spun out of control and struck a utility pole.

Witnesses told the Lake County Sheriff's Department they had seen a small white car, later identified as a Mitsubishi Eclipse, leave the scene. The Sheriff's Department received about a dozen calls from Antioch Community High School parents, leading to the identification of the Mitsubishi driver.

Pries' sentence, which also includes 175 hours of community service and attendance at a live victim impact panel, was negotiated before his guilty plea was entered. Without plea-bargaining, the sentence could have been as long as 15 years in prison.

In statements to deputies, Pries said he was in the right lane, heading eastbound on Gelden Road. He told police the black Honda overtook him on Gelden Road, west of Grass Lake, and lost control as it attempted to return to the right lane when a car approached from the opposite direction. Pries admitted he accelerated as the Prelude attempted to pass him.

The Prelude went off the road to the left, re-entered the roadway and went off to the right, striking a utility pole and shearing the car in two. At the time, forensics experts estimated the crash to have occurred at 70 mph.

Pries said he fled the scene because he was afraid.

New budget allows for more police

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

The budget approved for the 2004 fiscal year will allow for a stronger police presence in the Village of Antioch.

Trustee Scott Pierce asked why most of the budget increases were small, but police and water treatment showed increases of 10 percent. "I want to make sure these increases are to improve services," he said.

Village administrator Mike Haley said those two areas were most in need of the added funds.

"The police department intends to add three officers to the force," he said. "The village is growing, and we now have the extra resources to do that."

Haley also explained the importance of the increase to water treatment.

He said, "Our sewer treatment plant is near capacity. There will be more capital expenses in public works as it pertains to sewer treatment."

When asked about future planning, Haley said both public works and the police department have five-year plans. "We had to get a handle on revenues and projected revenues first," he said. "Now that the village has done that, we can move forward."

Haley said the budget also allows for three or four new vehicles for public works.

POLICE BEAT

Persons charged with a crime are innocent until proven guilty in a court of law.

ANTIOCH

Suspended driver's license

Michael P. Hare, Jr., 23, of 339 Ida, Antioch, was arrested for driving while suspended on May 4 at 7:35 p.m. on Route 83, south of Route 173.

Police stopped him because he had no headlights turned on during rainfall at dusk. A check of his identifiers through LEADS/NCIC/SOS came back with information that his driver's license was suspended.

Hare was arrested and issued citations for driving while suspended, driving without headlights and having a defective windshield. He was released on personal recognizance pending his May 28-court date.

Velia R. Torres, 42, of 927 Wadsworth Ave., Waukegan, was arrested for driving while suspended on April 30 at 12:11 a.m. on Route 173 at Savage Road.

She was stopped for having crossed over the fog line by several feet. A check through LEADS/SOS came back with information that her driver's license was suspended.

Torres was arrested and issued citations for improper lane usage, driving while suspended and the operation of an uninsured vehicle. She was released on personal recognizance pending court.

No valid driver's license

Jose A. Chavez, 20, of 24790 W. Wilmet, Antioch, was arrested for driving without a valid driver's license on May 4 at 10:28 a.m. on Tiffany Road at North Ave.

An officer was dispatched to the area by the Lake County Sheriff's Office to assist in finding a motorist involved in a hit-and-run accident on Route 83 at Grass Lake Road. When stopped, Chavez told police he was just in an accident and did not have a driver's license. A check through LEADS confirmed this.

Chavez was arrested and issued a citation for driving without a valid driver's license and was released on personal recognizance for that charge pending May 28-court date. He was then turned over to Lake County for the hit-and-run accident.

Driving while revoked

Richard L. Devoe, 44, of Winthrop Harbor, was arrested for driving while revoked on May 4 at 8:17 a.m. on Route 173, east of McMillen.

He was locked traveling 50 mph in a 40-mph zone. A check through LEADS came back with information that his driver's license had been revoked.

Devoe was arrested and issued citations for speeding, driving while revoked and the operation of an uninsured vehicle. He was released on personal recognizance pending his May 28 -court date.

AUGS Red Ribbon winners were Stephanie Basford, Kris Siepl, Ross Gabriel, Jamie Braden, Nick Campbell, Mike Kowalczyk and Nicole Kumick.

AUGS Honorable Mention awards went to Matti Ukkonen, Holli Higgins, Melissa Zeman, Amanda Hasto, Amber Stewart, Mignon Rademan, Michelle Kanka, Karianne Skofstadt, Abby Grover, Jana Pimpo, Kacie Kruckerg, Colin Campbell, Michell McCarty, Ben Cater, Carolyn Chou, Jeremy Polman, Jenna Salak, Jimmie Kulidge and Joey Demeritt.

dents attended the Jobs for Illinois Graduates (JILG) Career Development Conference on May 2nd in Springfield. This conference included students from 85 JILG programs statewide. The conference was created in order to provide students with an opportunity to compete against their peers in contests including resume writing, job interviews, business correspondence, public speaking, decision making and service learning media presentations. Each school attending the conference chose students to compete at the state level in specific areas.

According to ACHS JILG instructor Nancy Fenton, "the students did great at the Career Development Conference competitions!" First place in our region (16 schools) and first-place in the state (85 schools) in the Scrapbook competition was achieved by Kerri Rognstad. First-place in our region and a state finalist in the Decision-Making Essay Competition was awarded to Najiyah Saleem. First-place in our region in Poster Design was given to Kelly Kalb and Alyssa Williams. Second-place in our region in Employment Interview went to Frank Vanderwall.

Courthouse Contest

Antioch Upper Grade students in Samantha Stone's Social Studies classes wrote an essay titled "Why Do We Have Laws?" Josh McReady, an eighth-grade student, won an honorable mention in the contest with the Lake County Courthouse. Josh received his award at a ceremony on Friday, May 2, at the courthouse. Also attending the ceremony were Josh's mother and his teacher Mrs. Stone.

Student Recognition Breakfast

On Wednesday, April 30, two eighth-grade students were honored by the Illinois Principals' Association at the College of Lake County Technology Campus' Student Recognition Breakfast. Royce Applegren and Heather Pease were each awarded a $50 savings bond from the Horace Mann Company for exhibiting outstanding social and academic qualities at Antioch Upper Grade School.

LOCAL DIGEST

Leave food by mailbox

The Antioch Post Office is gearing up for the 10th annual National Association of Letter Carriers (NALC) union food drive to be held on May 10.

Last year Antioch letter carriers collected 8,800 pounds of food. Postal carrier and union steward Todd Erickson said, "It really held the food pantries over the summer."

The food collected by the local carriers will be divided between the Antioch Township Food Bank and the St. Peter's Food Bank. None of the food collected from Antioch will leave the area.

Those with post office boxes can bring in their donations to the retail section of the post office located at 420 Orchard St.

For more information, contact Erickson at 847-395-0097.

Quilter's Dream demos techniques

Quilter's Dream is hosting a school-house day at the store on May 10.

Every hour different events, "make-it/take-its" and demonstrations will be held. Registration is requested.

Schedules are available in the shop, located on Main Street at Lake Street or are available online at www.quilters-dream.com.

Crime Stoppers seek assistance in Antioch hit, run

Lake County Crime Stoppers and the Antioch Police Department are seeking information about a vehicle involved in a March 21 hit and run accident.

While information was not released about the location of the accident, it was reported that there was extensive property damage, including to the vehicle involved.

The vehicle being sought is described as a white 1999-2000 Pontiac Grand AM GT with a partial VIN number of 1G2NE.

The vehicle is missing two, electronic side mirrors, lower air support, one headlamp assembly and a section of the right rocker panel molding. Additionally, there is damage to the radiator housing and the inner, wheel-well panel.

Those with information about this crime or any other felony crime or felony fugitive, should contact Crime Stoppers at 847-662-2222. This is anonymous.

Information leading to an arrest could make one eligible for a cash reward of up to $1,000.

Village prepares for Independence Day Parade

Antioch's Independence Day Float contest chair Dave Hoeh announced that floats entered in this year's parade will be eligible to win the Independence Day Cup.

This year's theme is American Heroes, and floats must convey this idea for eligibility.

The trophy is displayed in the Chamber of Commerce window at 882 Main St. and is engraved with the winner's name and the year. Last year's winner was the State Bank of The Lakes.

The traveling trophy was donated by Awards by Kaydan of Antioch.

For more information, call 847-395-1333.

Compost bin sale

Need a compost bin?

The Solid Waste Agency of Lake County (SWALCO) will be selling bins and tumblers at the Antioch Metra Train Station on May 17 from 8 a.m.-4 p.m.

Bins cost $20 and tumblers $65.

For more information, call SWALCO at 847-336-9340.

FridayFest Committee seeks produce sellers

The Farmers' Market that will run as part of FridayFest June 20-Aug. 29 will need produce.

The FridayFest committee is looking for those sellers to ensure the event's success. The market is open limited hours, 3-7 p.m. on Skidmore Drive.

For more information, or to participate, call Billie Horton, special events coordinator at 847-395-6342.

Skate park offers family hours

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Based on residents' requests, the Antioch parks and recreation department has created "family hours" for its skate park.

On Saturday and Sunday mornings between 9-11 a.m., use of the skate park will be limited to those 10 years old and younger under the supervision of their parents.

"This will give the younger kids a chance to use the park without the older and more experienced skaters and bikers," said director Laurie Stahl.

Stahl also wants to ensure that those who did not register to use the skate park last year must do so before entering the park. Waivers must be signed by the parents or guardians of those under 18 years old.

Registration stickers must be worn on safety helmets. A complete copy of the park's rules will be distributed along with the sticker.

As the park is unsupervised, most of the rules were established for the safety of the users.

First and foremost, new users must register with the Antioch Parks and Recreation Department at 806 Holbek Drive, before using the park. An adult must accompany children between 6-9 years old.

Helmets meeting or exceeding the Consumer Product Safety Commission standards must be worn: ANSI Z90.4; SNELL B-90; or ASTM 1447-94. Accidents should be reported to 911 first (toll-free on the pay phone) and then reported to the parks department.

The park's use is limited to skateboards, in-line skates and BMX (bicycle motocross) bikes. Bikers and skaters must take turns on all of the equipment.

For BMX bikes, no metal pegs are allowed, though nylon pegs are acceptable.

Users are asked to go with the traffic on the ramps and not against it. Additionally, the ramp should be clear of other users before another starts down it.

Users should check the equipment prior to use to ensure it is safe. Do not use broken or wet equipment. Unsafe or damaged equipment should be reported to the parks department at 847-395-2160.

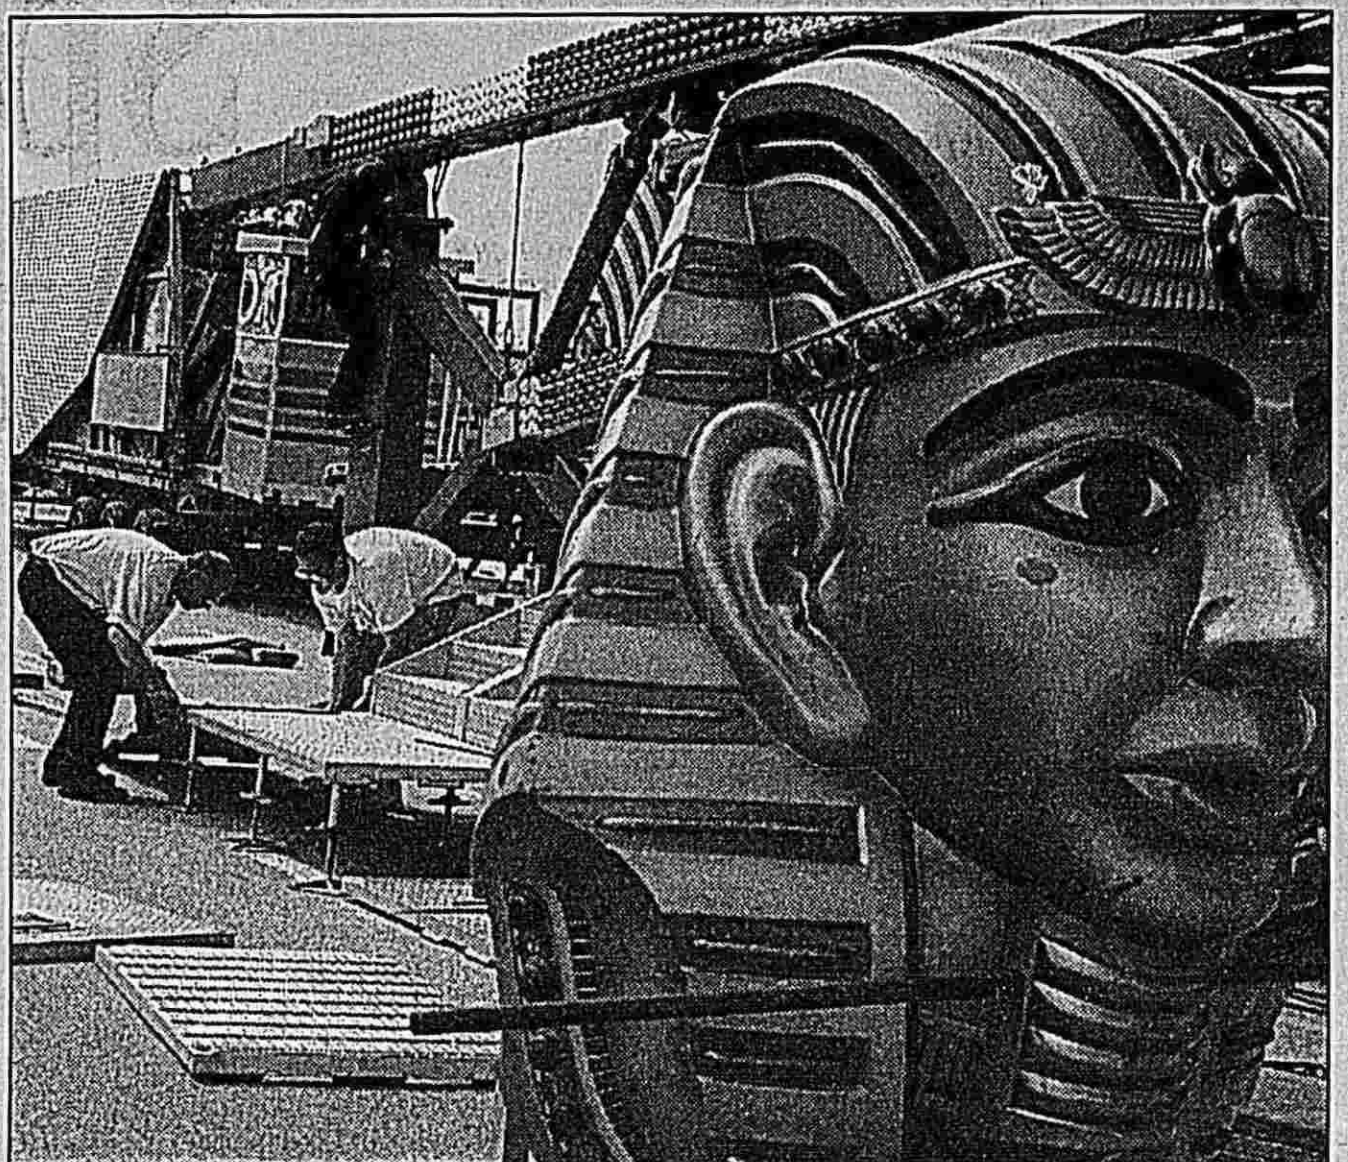

Additionally, no personally owned ramps, boxes or other devices are to be brought to the facility.

Obviously, intentional damage, including graffiti, is prohibited and subject to criminal prosecution. The skating surface should be kept free of garbage, shoes, backpacks and the like.

Tobacco, drugs and alcohol are prohibited, as are weapons. Fighting will not be tolerated.

Users should pick up after themselves and otherwise be courteous to the village, its employees and other users.

The park is open from sunrise to sunset and may be closed for any reason the parks department deems necessary.

Dressing casually supports troops

Employees of the First National Bank-Employee Owned will have two opportunities to dress casually to support troops in Iraq as part of the banks Casual Because We Care program.

On May 9 and May 23, the bank's employees will be allowed to forego dress codes in exchange for either $2 or non-perishable items that could be sent to U.S. soldiers stationed overseas.

"We do these fundraising days twice a month, and this month we are going to spend both days collecting donations for our troops stationed overseas," said Karen Kubin, marketing representative for FNBO.

The collection will be donated to the Operation Support Our Troops Fund at the office of Rep. JoAnn Osmond (R-Antioch) in Antioch. Ideas for donations include toiletries such as deodorant sticks, razors, toothbrushes or baby wipes and reading materials or snacks that will not melt. Both employees and community members are invited to participate.

Though the bank has locations in both Antioch and Gurnee, anyone wishing to mail a contribution to the fund should mail it to the Antioch location: First National Bank-Employee Owned, 485 Lake Street, Antioch, IL 60002.

The Casual Because We Care program has been operating since 1995.

Carnival supports multiple worthy causes

The annual carnival put on by the 885 Civic Club will be held Thursday, May 8 through Sunday, May 11 in the parking lot behind the shops on the east side of Main Street by the Brook Memorial Wetland Sanctuary and Entertainment Center and along Orchard and Skidmore roads.

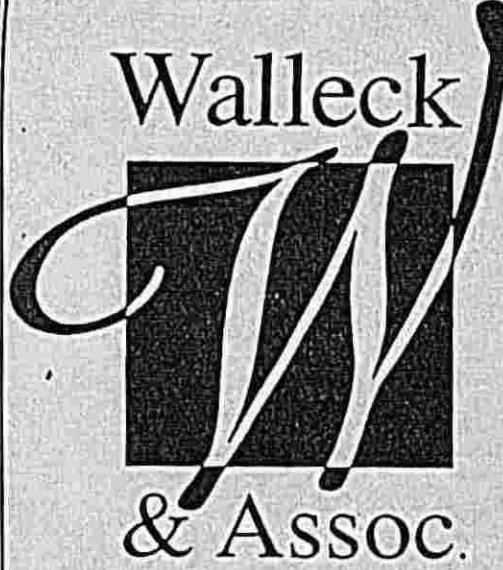

The hours will be from 6-10 p.m. on Thursday, 6-11 p.m. on Friday, 1-11 p.m. on Saturday and from 1 p.m. until about 10 p.m. on Sunday. "The closing time on Sunday depends some on the weather and the crowd," said Hawryluk.

There will be unlimited ride specials on Thursday, Saturday and Sunday. For $15 per person, carnival goers can ride as many rides as they want within the four time slots allotted.

The unlimited package is available from 6-10 p.m. on Thursday and from 1-5 p.m. on both Saturday and Sunday.

The 885 Civic Club makes contributions to the following organizations: Fishing Has No Boundaries, A Safe Place, Antioch Food Pantry, Lake Villa Rescue Squad/Fire Dept., Easter Seals, American Cancer Society, student educational trips, Antioch Rescue Squad/Fire Dept., Central Baptist Children's Home, Allendale, PADS, Children's Wish Foundation, Christmas for Seniors and various other charities.

Back for more

It's like any addiction. You can never get enough. For Round Lake Beach native Joe Valente III, the addiction revolves around demolition derbies.

As a driver, Valente has certainly made his mark around these parts for the past 15 years. It's a stretch that includes five championships in the annual Lake County Fair Demo Derby, one at DuPage Co. Fair, and one at Kenosha Co. Fair.

"After winning the 2002 Lake County fair derby, I vowed to retire from driving—it was taking way too much time and money," said Valente, the reigning county champ. "Plus, I got whiplash pretty bad in last year's event. But again, it's like anything else—you can't get it out of your veins."

But now, instead of competing as a driver, Valente is doing the next best thing—promoting.

"It's the only way I can be involved without driving," he said. "I don't think I want to drive again. Plus, the promoter for the Lake County Fair outlawed my type of race car (1976-and-older cars) and it looks like they aren't going to switch back. By outlawing those cars, he created a market for me."

That market is no stranger to Valente. He helped co-promote the Tournament of Destruction at Rte. 66 Raceway in Joliet for two years.

"They needed a filler show for that," he said. "I helped co-promote a county-fair-style demo derby for them, which is a last man standing, free-for-all event."

As far as getting his career as a promoter going, "I introduced myself to the fair board and let them know I'd been competing in the Lake County derby for a long time," said Valente. "I basically marketed myself. I told them, we need a professional derby, one that's a step above the regular fair derby."

Valente got his wish. He and his 15-man crew are gearing up for the inaugural 2003 Metalwars, to be held at The Lake County Fairgrounds Sun., May 25, which is Memorial Day weekend.

"We're going to try and instill some ethics into the race," said Valente, whose racing company is Christian-based. "We'll have an opening prayer from Pastor Miller (from Indian Hill Chapel in Lake Villa). There will also be chapel service with Motor Race Outreach for the drivers."

Racing won't be the only thing on the menu, though. Various raffles, with the grand prize being a chance to drive a ready-to-run demolition derby car for a lucky 18- and-older winner, will be a feature attraction.

"We'll supply the car, the helmet and the aspirin. All they have to do is drive," said Valente. "The car is a 1984 Oldsmobile 98, set up to run in the derby. It will be the legendary orange and black; however, it will not be my traditional No. 188. That number has been retired!"

Kids will also have a chance to meet and have autographs signed and pictures taken with Smack M. Silly, the world's only demolition derby clown.

"It's taken months of planning, from setting up the insurance and sponsors, to getting the word out to the drivers," said Valente. "But it should be a great time. We're looking forward to it."

More than half of Valente's staff has been working with him for the past 15 years. That includes one of his technical officials, Rob Wiley, and Valente's father, Joe Jr., who is his primary investor.

Valente's sponsors, most of whom have supported him as a driver, include: Italian Ovens in Grayslake, Music Source in Wildwood, Ring's Radiator in Antioch, Potesta's Pizza in Waukegan, J.R. Wrecker Service, in Waukegan, Weakley's Quality Printing in North Chicago, Century 21 Marketplace, and Jim Little All-State agency, also based in Antioch.

As for Metalwars, grandstands open at 10 a.m. with action beginning at 11. He said everything is just about in place for the event, however he expressed the need for 4-by-4's for hauling vehicles off the track when the cars are finished.

"I definitely would love to make this my career within the next 3-5 years," said Valente. "I want to take it national." He's certainly got a good start.

Editor's note: Only the best to all of those wonderful mom's out there this Mother's Day, especially the one belonging to yours truly!

Trio of coaches join Sequoits' varsity ranks

By JOE PRUSKI
Lakeland Correspondent

Next year's winter sports season at Antioch High School will have a brand new look as three new coaches have been named to lead their respective teams.

Ron Hatfield will take over the Antioch wrestling program, replacing Ted Sieckowski. Hatfield's extensive resume, which includes eight years of coaching at Lincoln College, five years at Freeport High School, and 21 years working as a coach with USA wrestling, was one of the main reasons for his hiring.

It took Hatfield just three years to make Freeport a state contender, while with USA wrestling he's worked with numerous Olympic medalists, as well as several gold medal winners.

Hatfield believes his experience will be his biggest factor in turning a struggling Antioch program around.

"I've always gathered information from top wrestlers, what they do and how they perform," he said. "I use that to develop a system that will work."

Heading into his tenure as a head coach in Antioch, Hatfield has one goal in mind: making Antioch a national powerhouse.

"My long term goal is to become one of the best wrestling programs in the country, not just the state, but in the nation. If you shoot to just make the playoffs in sports, that's all your going to do, and we want more than that," he said. "I think in 3-5 years we can become one of the elite team's in the state. I have a definite plan of what I'd like to do, and I can't wait to move that forward."

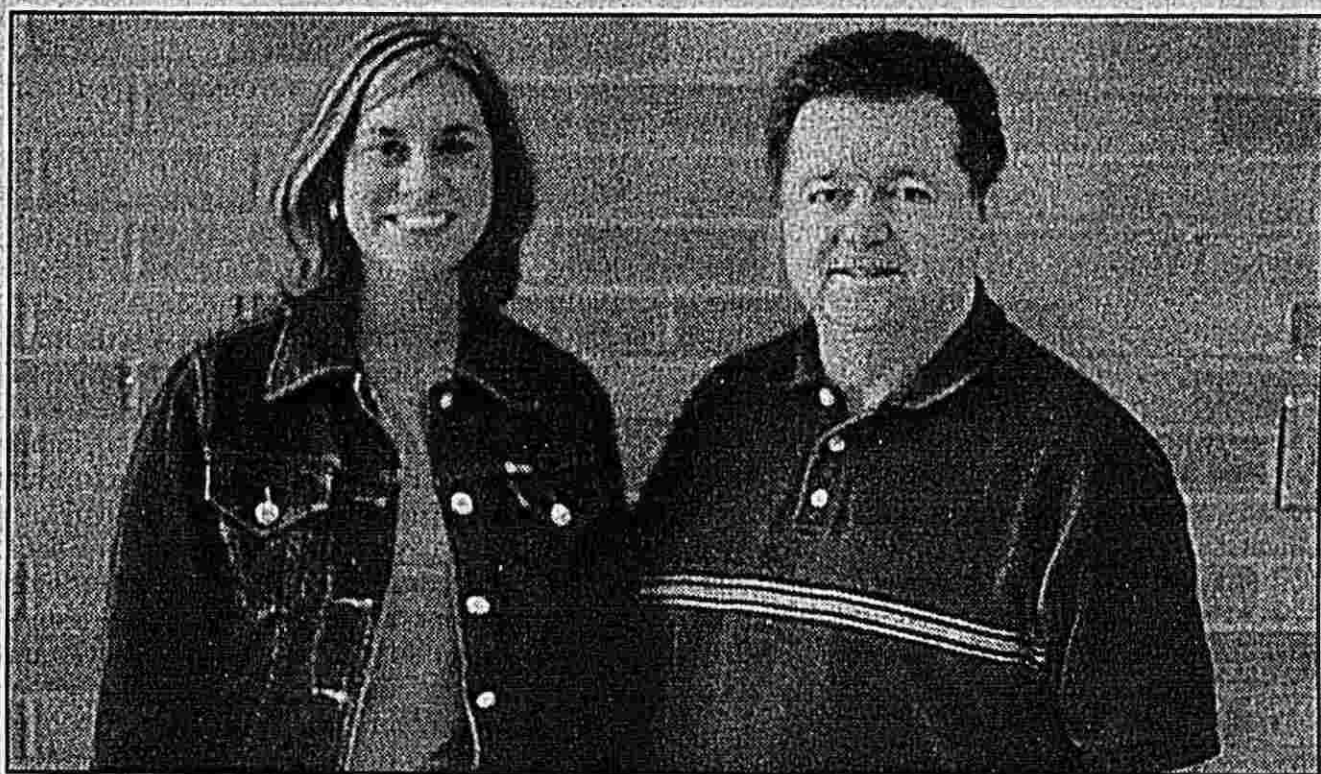

Two wrestling camps have been set up over the summer. The Champ Camp will take place June 12-14, and be for high school wrestlers, while the novice camp, for athletes 12- and-under, will be held June 19-21.

Former Antioch basketball sophomore head coach Tom Duffy will replace long time coach Jeff Dresser as varsity head coach effective next season.

In six years at Antioch, Duffy has spent four as sophomore head coach and two as a varsity assistant. Before Antioch, Duffy was head coach at South Beloit High School, and has put in 15 years total coaching the game.

The fact that he has coached all the players on the varsity team before will be key in the team's success this season.

"This year coming up, it helps that everyone has had me before, they know me well Antioch High School welcomes three new faces to the varsity coaching ranks. They include Carissa Parker (left) for the girls dance team and Ron Hatfield for the Sequoit wrestling program. and know what to expect from me," said Duffy.

Among his goals for next season, Duffy looks to simplify the game back to what it is—a game.

"I'd like to get (the team) back to playing hard, disciplined basketball and get them to enjoy basketball," he said. "In the past few years, I think that might be something that was lost. They weren't enjoying the game enough."

As for style of play, Duffy plans on playing a bit more of an up-tempo game, something quite contrary to the former drawn out Antioch offense.

Summer camps for high school basketball players will be held June 16-19.

And, fresh off of a state championship, the Antioch dance team will be led by Carissa Parker next season, who replaced Sam Griffin as head coach.

Parker's experience in dance dates all the way back to her first studio class, at the age of 2, which she continued until freshman year of high school. Since then, Parker has danced in high school as well as cheered, and has taken numerous dances courses at her alma mater, the University of Iowa.

Aside from this being Parker's first season coaching at Antioch, this will also mark her first year of teaching high school.

In terms of teaching, Parker believes that making a difference is what really counts.

"I want to start feeling comfortable in school, I'd just like my students to succeed and put in the effort," she said. "If I can make a difference in one student's life then I know that I've made a difference."

As far as dance in concerned, Parker is looking forward to the challenge of trying to repeat a state championship, a feat that has never been accomplished at Antioch High School.

"I want us to be the most successful dancers we can be, whatever that means, whether it be winning state again or just making it there," she said.

Antioch will hold dance tryouts on the May 15, while showstopper camps will take place at Northern Illinois University at the end of July.

Kickers tryouts

The Chicago Kickers, based out of Lake Villa, will be holding tryouts on several dates in May for its numerous travel squads. This season, the Kickers will be fielding will have teams ranging from under-9 to under-19 girls. Teams are also going to be formed for boy's under-9 to under-14.

Grayslake native Tommy Soehn, a former standout professional player for the Chicago Fire and who currently works with the Fire, brings not only a wealth of experience to the Kickers, but also the most up-to-date training.

The girl's teams compete in the Illinois Women's Soccer League, while the boy's teams compete in the Young Sportsman Soccer League.

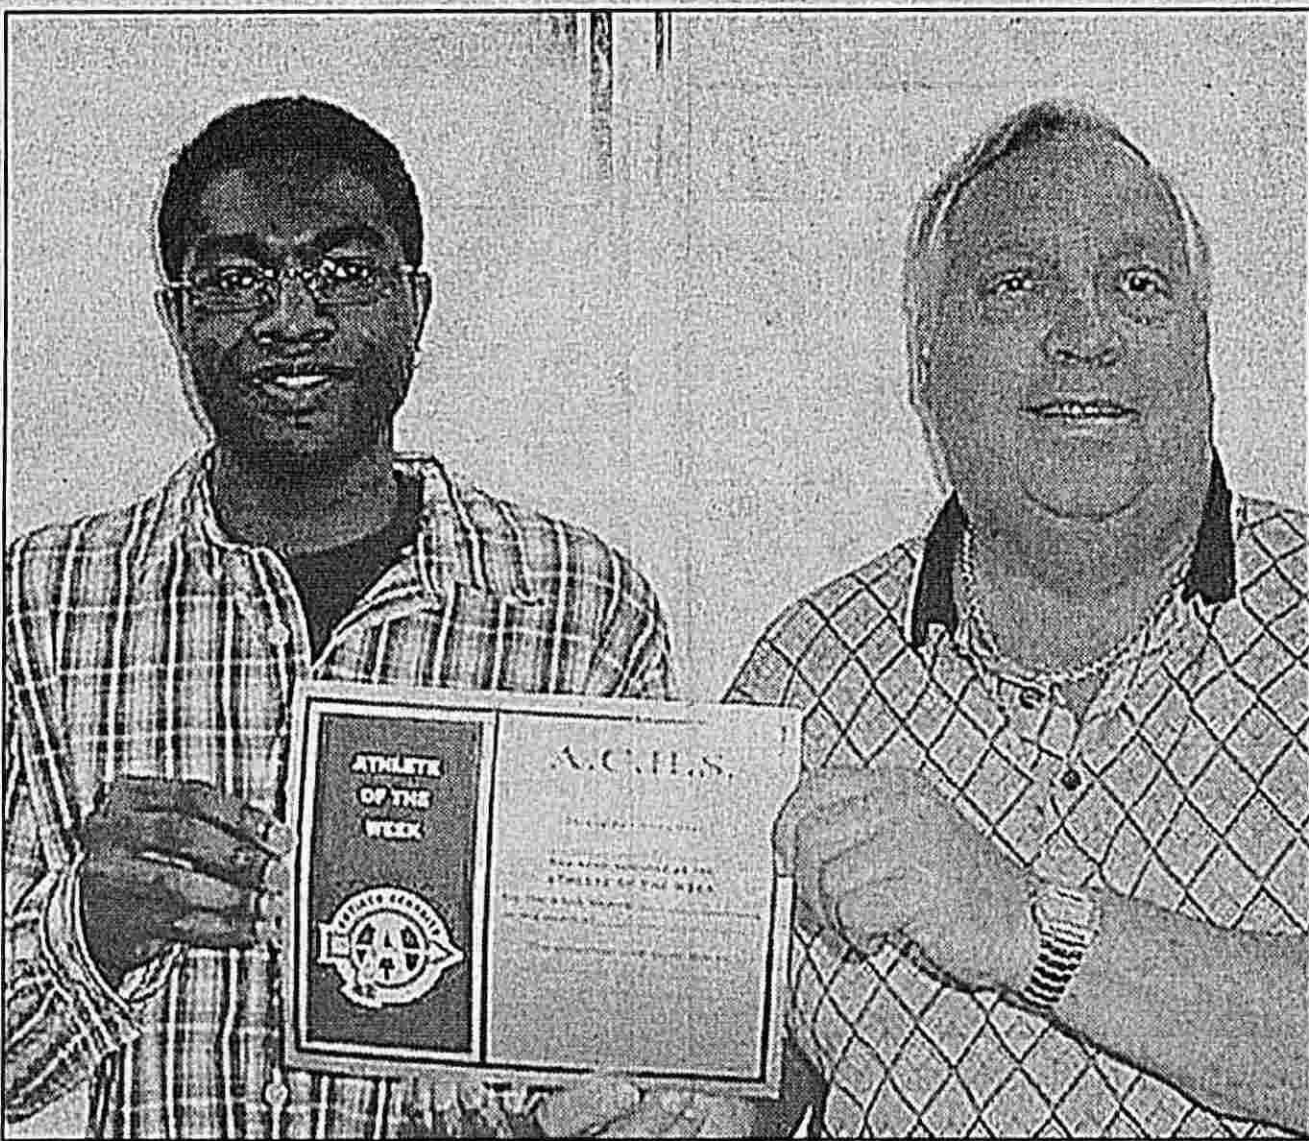

All of the tryouts for the 2003-04 squads will take place at Palombi Middle School, located off of McKinley Ave. in Lake Villa.

Boys' under-8 to under-11 will tryout on Fri., May 9 from 6-7:30 p.m., while boys under-12 to under-14 will tryout Fri., May 16, also from 6-7:30 p.m.

As for the girls, under-9 to under-12 will hold tryouts on Sat., May 10 from 9-10:30 a.m., under-13 to under-16 will be Sat., May 17 from 3-4:30 p.m., and under-17 to under-19 will also try out May 17 from 9-10:30 a.m.

For those who cannot attend any of the aforementioned tryout dates, there are other options. Boys under-8 to under-11 and girls under-9 to under-12 can tryout Sun., May 11 from 6-7:30 p.m. Then, boys under-12 to under-14 and girls under-13 to under-19 can try out on Sun., May 18 from 6-7:30 p.m.

If interested or if you need more information, please call 847-356-5311 or check out the kickers web site at www.chicagokickers.com.

ATHLETE OF THE WEEK Michael Perry

LASC to hold soccer extravaganza on May 10

The Lindenhurst Area Soccer Association Travel Soccer Club will be hosting the F.I.R.E. Express on Sat., May 10 from 10 a.m.-1 p.m. This is a soccer extravaganza with several interactive displays that children of all ages can enjoy.

Admission is free! Interested players can also pre-register for the LASC tryouts being held May 17-19. The park district will also be accepting registrations for the 2003-2004 seasons.

Come and test your shooting skills at the Fire Target Shoot, try out the human foosball or play 3-on-3 in the inflatable soccer field, or play soccer tennis. Plus, you'll have a chance to meet Sparky, the Chicago Fire mascot, from 10:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m.

Representatives from the Lindenhurst Park District and the LASC Travel Soccer club will also be on hand with information on there in-house and travel soccer programs.

The event is being held at Oakland school at the corners of Deep Lake and Grass Lake Roads in Lake Villa. Everyone is invited to attend.

Results*Baseball*Antioch Little League

The Triple-AAAA boy's Muckdogs defeated the Mudcats in the season opening game held last weekend at Williams Park diamond in Antioch.

Pitcher D. Wilson went four innings with six strikeouts. She faced only 13 batters and allowed only one base on balls. C. Hombaker finished the game with four strikeouts, allowing only two walks in two innings of work.

At the plate, R. Dragoon and B. Prather both went 2-for-3 with a run scored.

Defensively, W. Waschow gobbled up a line drive at third base and threw out the runner at first. Back on offense, P. Keefe was walked once and sent a ball to the outfield, earning a double during his second at bat. M. Wilfert also went 1-for-3 with a single and run scored. T. Ash was walked both at-bats. He also scored a run.

Soccer

In the third game of the spring season, the Lindenhurst Area Soccer

Association Predator under-11 boy's soccer team tied the Glenview Titans Gold 2-2. The Predators maintained control of the field throughout the majority of the physical contest with two exciting goals scored in the first half by John Androus and Danny Hourihan.

Although the first two contests of the season were hard fought and well played, the Predators lost 3-0 to the GLSA Orange and 4-1 to the Palatine Celtic Raptors on April 19. The goal against Palatine was drilled in by Danny Hourihan in the opening minutes of the game.

Under-10 Lindenhurst Titans

The Lindenhurst Titan under-10 boy's soccer team picked up their second win of the season, a 3-1 victory over the Highland Park Giants Navy team. Trailing 1-0 at halftime, Vinnie Holm netted the equalizer to make the score 1-1. Then, goals by Joey Carlborg and Nathan McMahon sealed the deal. Taylor Krumpas and Alex Grimm split time in the net to preserve the win.

Other solid contributors included Michael Beckman, Matt Dexheimer, Tony Gallo, Billy Mohr, David Mrnak, Connor Orth and Josh Pohlman.

The Titans were coming off a scoreless tie at Arlington Heights. They are now undefeated in their last three games, having given up a total of one goal over that stretch.

Under-11 Rocket girls

The under-11 Rocket girl's soccer team of the Lindenhurst Area Soccer Association earned a 2-2 tie with the TM Chicago Avalanche.

Ashely Chernich scored one of the Rocket goals while the other Rocket tally was an 'own goal' by the Avalanche.

Sarah Bartlett (5 saves) and Madeline Allen (8 saves) combined efforts in goal.

Under-9 Her-ricanes

The under-9 Her-ricanes of the Lindenhurst Area Soccer Association cruised past the Northbrook Spartans 5-0. Kelley Dodge scored the hat trick while Caitlin Jung and Autumn Muckenhim added single goals.

Chloe Basa (5 saves) and Stephanie Aichholzer (4 saves) shared keeper duties to combine for the shut out.

Under-10 Fire girls

In their latest action, the Fire under-10 girl's soccer team of the Lindenhurst Area Soccer Association cruised to a 3-1 victory over Libertyville White.

Jessica Ring, Ashley Neubeck and Becky Hill scored fire goals. Lena Mittsuuschi and Eleni Kaitson both made some great saves to keep Libertyville White in check. Jessica Liszka and Kate Arends anchored a strong defensive line.

The Fire then posted another victory over Grayslake Galaxy White, 6-1. Ring scored the hat trick while Neubeck added two goals and Cassie Breneisen one.

Breneisen assisted on two of Ring's goals. Keeper's Mittsuuschi and Sara Dreyer both made some great saves throughout the contest. The middle line of Hill, Neubeck, and Anne Marie Brugioni kept the ball down on the Galaxy end of the field for most of the game. The entire team played an outstanding game.

With the two victories, the Fire improved to 4-0 for the spring season.

The Fire will next host Libertyville Black on Thurs., May 15 at 6 p.m. The Fire plays their home games at Forest View Park in Lindenhurst.

For Evans' sake

Evans Scholarship Fund shows there's more in it for caddies than just lugging bags

Doug Grom

By JOHN PHELPS
Sports Editor

It's 90-plus degrees. The shoulders are sore and the feet are aching from lugging around two golf bags for a majority of the day. But fresh air and a nice little chunk of change have made it all worthwhile.

Gone are the days when the caddie, or servant hauled around bags for the 'gentlemen' for meager wages. The first caddie ever was believed to have been Willie 'Trap Door' Johnson in England in 1838.

But now, a couple of centuries later, the caddie has evolved into a pretty integral part of a golfer's game plan, from reading the greens to getting the accurate yardage to even playing the role of psychiatrist when their player is shooting high numbers.

Charles 'Chick' Evans, a renowned Chicago amateur golfer who won the 1916 U.S. Open and U.S. Amateur, has certainly done his part of making sure caddies were recognized for their hard work and effort.

For it was in 1930 that Evans joined forces with The Western Golf Association to form the Chick Evans Scholarship Fund, which has become the largest privately-funded scholarship fund in the nation.

Over 7,600 have graduated as Evans Scholars since the program's inception.

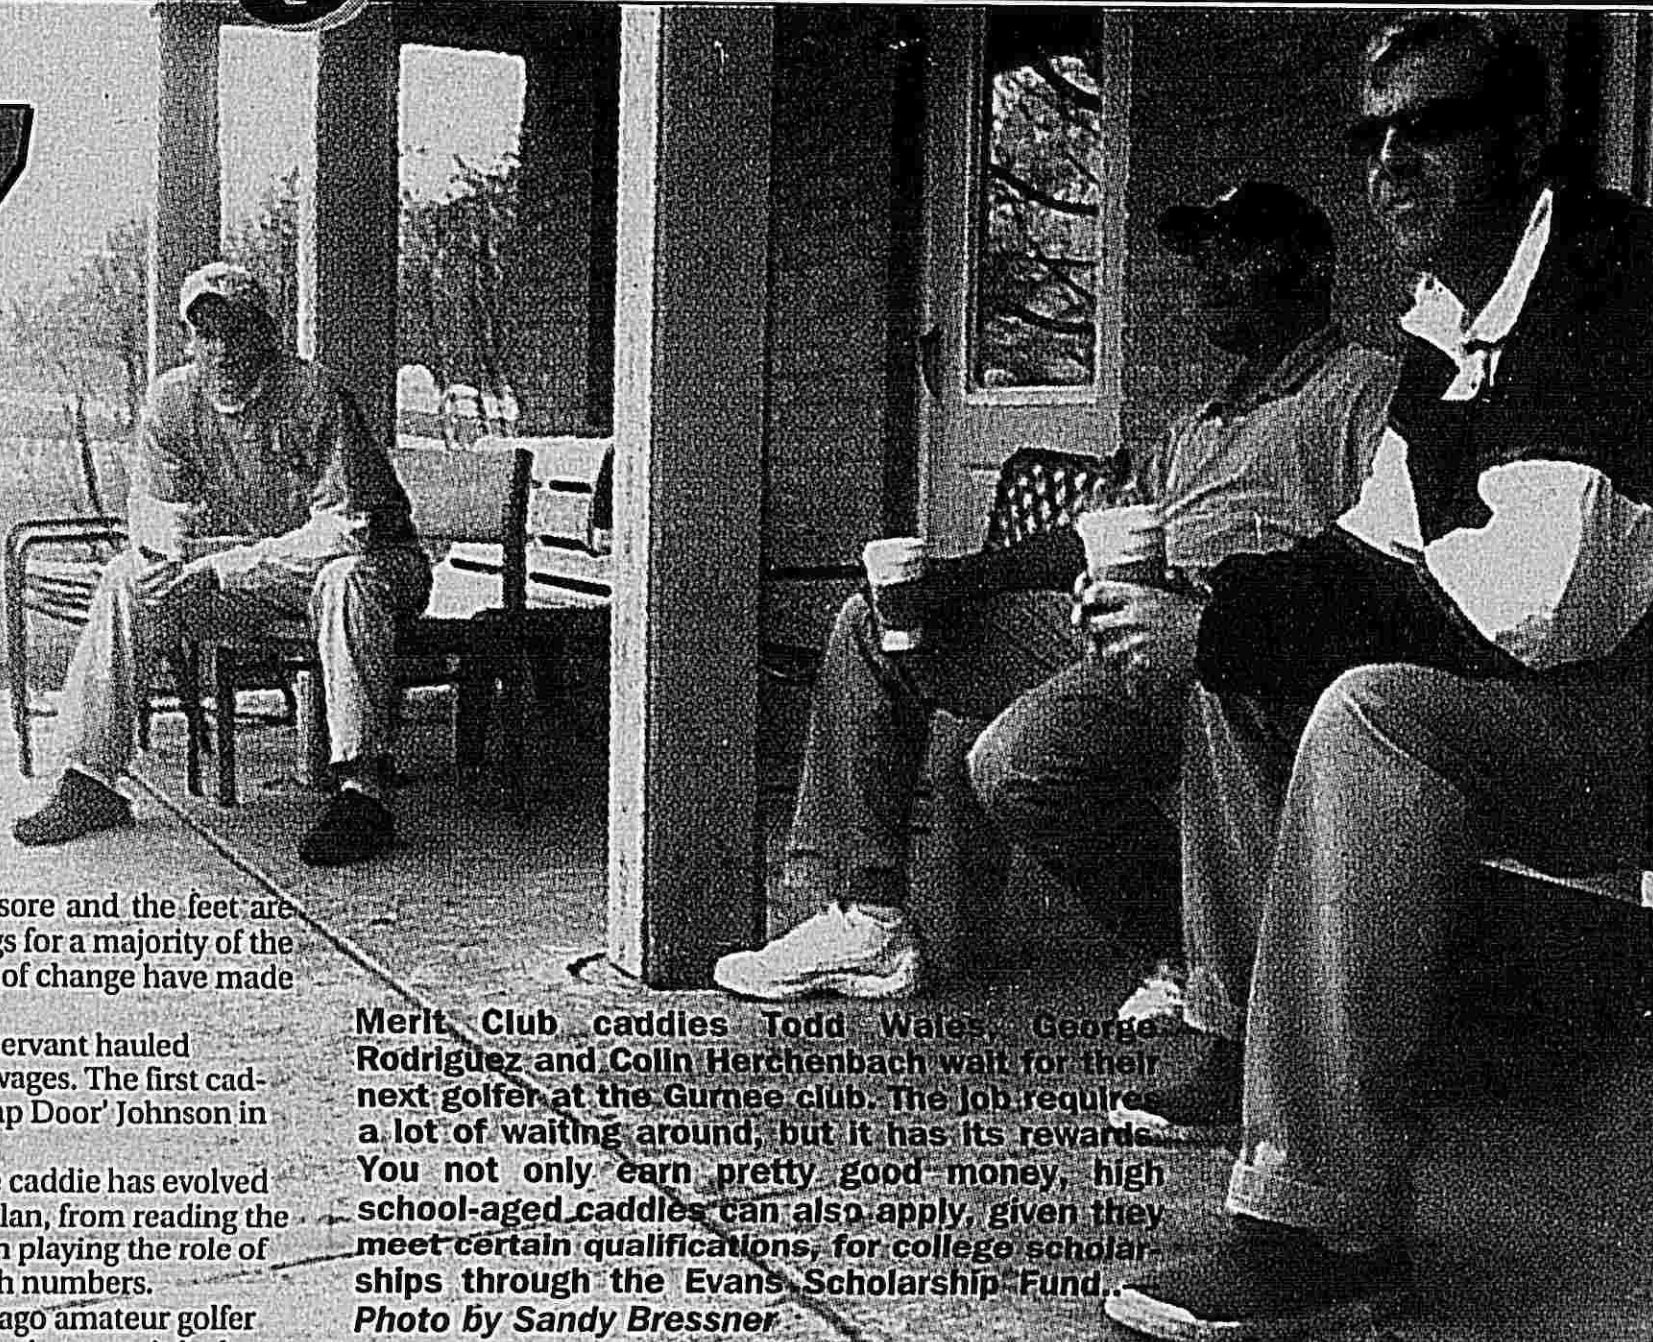

One of them was Don Pieper, the current Head Golf Professional and General Manager of the Merit Club in Gurnee.

"I was caddying at the Glenview Club. It (Evans Scholarship information) was up on the wall. A friend of mine said 'try it, the worst thing they can say is no,'" said Pieper, who wound up graduating as an Evans Scholar from Indiana University in 1984. "It's a great program, though. It's like a series of four, one-year contracts, as long as you meet and maintain all of the criteria involved. It really helped me out a lot."

Ironically, Judd Hansen, Merit Club's former caddy master and present clubhouse engineer, also graduated from Indiana as an Evans Scholar. That's how he and Pieper met initially before Merit Club first opened its doors in 1989. Merit Club also has two caddies that are currently in school as Evans Scholars. Elliott Gruber, a sophomore, and Eric Carnick, a freshman, both attend the University of Illinois, which is one of 14 universities that have a chapter's and an Evans Scholarship House on campus. Most of the schools are in the Midwest. Evans chapter in the program are also at universities in Pennsylvania, Colorado, Oregon and Washington.

And speaking of criteria, to be considered initially for an Evans Scholarship, applicants must have: caddied regularly at a club for a minimum of two years, possess outstanding character, be entering their senior year in high school, be in the upper quarter of their class and establish their need for financial assistance.

Two gentlemen will be representing the area as Evans Scholars beginning with the 2003-04 school year.

Merit Club caddies Todd Wales, George Rodriguez and Collin Herchenbach wait for their next golfer at the Gurnee club. The job requires a lot of waiting around, but it has its rewards. You not only earn pretty good money, high school-aged caddies can also apply, given they meet certain qualifications, for college scholarships through the Evans Scholarship Fund.

Ingleside resident and Grant Community High school senior Doug Grom was an excellent choice, seeing his older brother Larry is currently on an Evans Scholarship at the University of Missouri.

Doug will also be attending the University of Missouri.

Doug said he first got exposed to the game of golf about six years ago.

"My grandfather (Rudolph) and dad (Terrence) golfed and caddied. Plus, my brother (Larry) had started playing," said Doug, who has caddied at Ivanhoe Club in Ivanhoe for the past six years. He has also been a varsity member of the Bulldog golf team for the past two years.

"I got the idea (of applying for the Evans) from them. My cousin (Hubby) is also an Evans Scholar at the University of Illinois. I applied and was very taken back when they announced I was one of the winners."

Hard work and a good working relationship with the members at Ivanhoe helped Doug immensely in the process.

"The members, head pro and caddy master — I owe them so much for helping me out, for writing letters for me and giving me recommendations," he said. "It's a pretty good feeling walking around, knowing that hard work paid off. I've caddied for a lot of good players. Plus, getting this scholarship obviously helps out a lot financially."

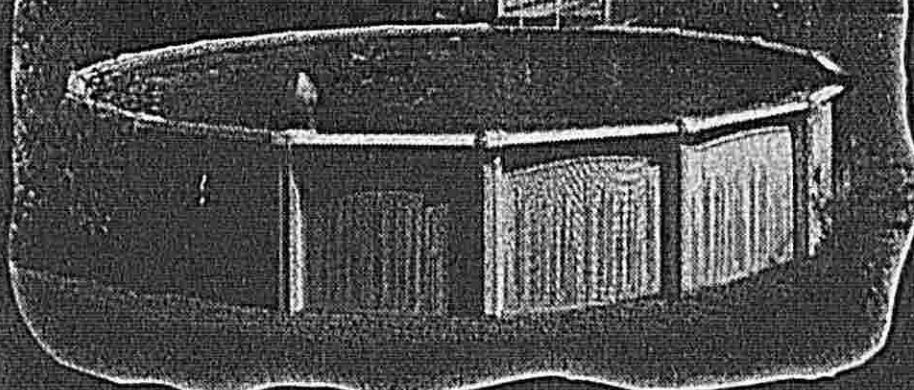

Doug says he hopes to keep his grades up, to maintain his scholarship, while pursuing a degree in business administration. He hopes to become a corporate lawyer someday.

Round Lake Beach resident and Grayslake High School senior Ajibola A. Johnson, or A.J., was just as surprised after learning he was selected an Evans Scholarship winner.

"Last year, I was waiting around for a loop one day, and it was just me and my caddy master (at that time, Todd Werder). He encouraged me to try for it. The members also encouraged me to apply. I was shocked when I got selected," said A.J., who has caddied at Biltmore C.C. in North Barrington for the past

Signs of spring all say, 'Garage Sale'

I've been teetering on the brink for months. That's because it's hard for me to balance a discarded curtain rod while perched on the top edge of a dumpster. No, I'm not auditioning for a tight rope act. It's just that at the end of a long barren winter, it doesn't take much to send me "over the edge" in my search for junk. But things are looking up... I'm raring to graze greener pastures as "Garage Sale" signs pop up faster than spring daffodils!

Junking is in my blood. My grandfather first introduced me to a world where nothing remotely useable was thrown away, especially at the end of SOMEONE ELSE'S driveway. Sure enough, he'd start our little forays with, "Hey, kid, my bum leg's acting up again, but we've got our 'orders' you know!" (My single mom usually gave us a list of needed items for our real life scavenger hunt.)

Gramps and I would cruise the best neighborhoods. Gramps flew reconnaissance, scouting out treasures camouflaged as cast offs. I served proudly as backseat "tail gunner," taking in designated targets faster than a looter in Baghdad.

And, believe it or not, nine times out of ten we'd check off most of the items on Mom's "shopping" list. So what if Gramps' tinkering sometimes stretched the limits of ingenuity. One time he presented Mom with a "drill" for household repairs... only this appliance could handle two drill bits at a time, and beat egg whites after sinking a screw.

The years passed, but Gramps' training didn't go to waste... especially when my husband and I were suddenly given the chance to adopt two young brothers. After more than a decade childless — living on two incomes, TV dinners, and trendy furnishings — we were about as prepared for kids as camels on the Titanic. Suddenly I was a full-time mom with an immediate need to supply a traditional family from central casting. So I went back to my roots... I hit the streets.

LES
LIFE

Leslie Glazier-Werner

Thank God pickings were easy compared to my old pre-garage sale days with Gramps. By the end of the summer, I had feathered my nest with enough yard sale kid stuff to stock a day care center. (On the other hand, I'll admit I had to burn rubber a few summers later for a used infant "layette" when a daughter popped up. By this time my husband was demanding a written return policy... not on merchandise, but on any more kids!)

In the end, it hasn't been the thrill of the hunt, or even beating out professional "salvagers" that's given me the most satisfaction. It's been the chance to keep a bit of Gramps alive. I felt like saluting him when I caught my kids patrolling the neighborhood in their second hand "cozy coupes." They'd drive along, then stop and park at imaginary garage sales. Inspecting a rock closely, one would engage the nearest bush in a little price negotiation, offering sticks as legal tender. They must have been pretty successful because by the time they reached our driveway they were hauling enough stone to build a Lake Michigan breakwater.

And I still keep Gramps with me by filling Mom's shopping list... even if it's "disguised" as garbage on my own block. But at least now I have the discretion to phone my order in ahead of time. So a big thank you to the neighbor who pretended not to notice me on trash day... Those drapes you disposed of will make the perfect pillows on Mom's sofa.

The Attic Playhouse presents 'Our Lady of the Tortilla'

In one wild farcical weekend, the Cruz family threatens to burst at the seams after Aunt Delores thinks she has seen a vision of the Madonna in her home-baked tortilla... an extremely funny romp of cultures and generations colliding.

Performances run from May 9-June 15. Fridays and Saturday at 8 p.m. and Sundays at 3 p.m. (except there is no matinee on May 11)

Tickets are $15 with advanced purchase and $16 at the door. Special discounts are given to Senior Citizens (65+); Student w/ID; military personnel and groups. $30 dinner packages are available with "Two Guys from Italy Restaurant" located in the same building.

Attic Playhouse is located at 410 Sheridan Road, Highwood.

For tickets or further information, please call 847-433-2660.

Participate in the 'Hike for Life'

More than 2,000 hikers, bike riders, rollerbladers and one man riding a jetski are expected to join CareFirst Pregnancy Centers' 18th annual Hike for Life in Saturday, May 10.

Covering up to 10 miles along Chicago's lakefront, in Busse Woods, Elk Grove Village, and in Old School Forest Preserve, Libertyville, they'll be raising money to help Chicago-area women facing unplanned pregnancies.

"This is a fun, family-centered event that directly impacts the services we provide," said CareFirst president Nancy Good. "Participating in the Hike for Life is a positive way for people to demonstrate their commitment to helping women in pregnancy-related crisis."

Registration for the lakefront Hike for Life begins at 8 a.m. in the park at Clark and LaSalle streets. Five or 10-mile routes take hikers along Chicago's lakefront from North Avenue to Lawrence Avenue. Free parking will be available in the Moody Church garage on the northwest corner of North Avenue and LaSalle Street.

For the Busse Woods Hike for Life, registration begins at 8 a.m. at Elk Grove Baptist Church, 801 Beisner Road, Elk Grove Village. Hikers will follow a 2.5 or 5-mile route along the Busse Woods bicycle path. Free parking will be available at Alexian Brothers Medical Center's garage at the northwest corner of Beisner and Biesterfeld roads.

Hike for Life participants at the Libertyville location, which was added this year, may register beginning at 8 a.m. at Parking Lot D in Old School Forest Preserve. The forest preserve entrance is on St. Mary's Road between Route 176 and Route 60/Townline Road. Hikers of 2.5 or 5-miles will begin at the registration area. Free parking is available.

Refreshments, including bottled water and healthy snacks, are provided at 2.5-mile checkpoints. After the walk, hikers at all three sites will enjoy a free picnic lunch and special children's programs.

CareFirst Pregnancy Centers offer practical assistance at no cost to women facing unplanned pregnancies. Free services include pregnancy tests and ultrasound examinations, counseling, support groups, parenting classes and more. There are six CareFirst pregnancy resource centers located throughout Cook County. Last year, more than 5,000 women were served by CareFirst.

Through its Prevention Services division, CareFirst also provides pregnancy prevention programs in Chicago-area middle schools and junior and senior high schools.

For information about Hike for Life, call toll free 888-867-4453 or visit www.hikeforlife.org.

Experience the joy of flower arranging

Flower arranging for competition and enjoyment will be the free presentation sponsored by the Gardeners of Central Lake County on Monday, May 12. Phyllis Mohler will demonstrate different styles of arrangements using a variety of containers. She will show how to include natural material from the garden as well as flowers.

The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. The Gardeners meet at the Libertyville Township Offices, 343 Merrill Court, Libertyville. The Public is invited.

For more information or directions, call Susan at 847-816-8007.

three years.

Werder said that he wishes he had more caddies like A.J.

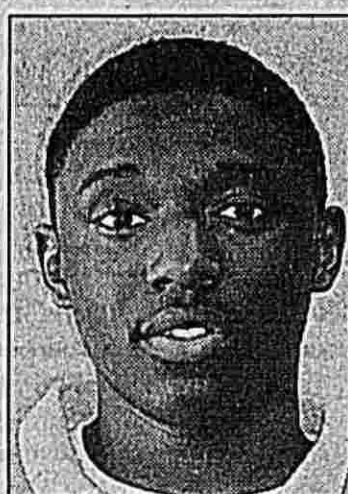

"He's got a nice, cool demeanor," said Werder. "He's very personable and an excellent caddie. I feel great that I could help him out. I know he'll be a great representative for the Evans Scholarship Fund."

A.J. will start attending the University of Illinois next fall. He plans on pursuing a degree in electrical engineering.

Both wrote essays when they applied last year. They then had an informational meeting with the Western Golf Association, where the list of applicants was cut down. Those who moved on then had formal interviews in March. The winners were announced a short time later.

Once selected, the winners pick any one of the 14 schools represented under the Evans Scholarship Fund. That is, of course, assuming there is an opening in the Evans Scholarship House at that institution because they can only award so many scholarships for each school.

Regarding funds for the scholarships, there are several resources contributing: more than 500 member clubs, 33,000 W.G.A. Par Club members, and over 100,000 golfers in the W.G.A. Bag Tag Program. Golfers of the

Ajibola 'A.J.' Johnson

Bag Tag Program donate more than $5 million annually to the Evans Foundation. Evans alumni also donate a good chunk of change every year. In addition, 23 affiliated golf associations and proceeds from the Western Open also contribute to the program.

Every year, the Evans Fund, in conjunction with the W.G.A., awards anywhere from 70-200 full tuition and housing scholarships.

Any caddies out there looking to apply, or for more information in general, can contact the Evans Scholar Program at 847-724-4600 or check out the web site at: evansscholars@wgaesf.com.

As for A.J. and Doug, they plan on caddy-ing their tails off through the summer.

"I just want to keep getting better and caddy as much as possible," both of them said.

You guys are already good. Being an Evans Scholar is a nice feather in your hat.

Exchange ideas with other parents

A parent-child program welcomes parents with their children, newborn to age four, to weekly drop-in mornings. This is a chance for parents to get together, exchange ideas and discuss common concerns while children play. Facilitated by staff trained in child and family development. The program meets every Thursday morning 9:30-11 a.m. at First Presbyterian Church, 219 W. Maple, Libertyville. First visit is free. $5 fee per family per session or six session pass for $25. For more information call Sarah Christian at 847-367-5991.

SPECIAL EVENT

Ex-White Sox player to be pit boss at casino night

Regardless of whether they're dealt a "21" or their lucky number comes up on the roulette wheel, attendees of LaCASA's "LaCASINO Night" fund-raiser on Saturday, May 24, will come away winners because they helped support an extremely worthy cause. Reprising last year's incredibly successful fund-raising event, The Lake County Council Against Sexual Assault, LaCASA is hosting the Las Vegas style charitable event from 7 p.m.-midnight at the Royal Melbourne Country Club in Long Grove.

"We decided the best way to raise money to support LaCASA's programs, and to raise awareness in the process, would be to create a not-to-be-missed event that people will look forward to attending and bringing friends to each year," said Sue Aldrich, a LaCASA board member who is chairing the event. "From the minute people arrive, they will enjoy 'mock gambling' with celebrity dealers and other Las Vegas style entertainment, along with great food and company. It's going to be quite an evening!"

Telephone Pioneers of America, which is licensed by the State of Illinois to conduct charitable events, will run the casino portion of the event. All proceeds will go to benefit LaCASA's programs for assisting survivors of rape and incest, and reducing the threat of sexual assault in Lake County.

"I'm looking forward to roaming around from table to table to make sure everyone is having a great time, while helping to raise money in support of this incredible organization, known as LaCASA," said ex-Chicago White Sox Player/Announcer Tom Paciorek, who will be serving as "Pit Boss" for the event and is Honorary Chairperson of LaCASA's Long term Giving/Endowment Campaign.

"I am proud to be affiliated with such a vital, well-run organization that is making a real difference in the lives of so many people throughout Chicagoland," said Paciorek, himself a survivor of sexual abuse by his parish priest while growing up in Detroit. "There's no way I would have survived my ordeal without help from others, and LaCASA provides the help that is absolutely critical for thousands of survivors all across Lake County."

Guests of LaCASA can test their luck at blackjack, craps, roulette and Caribbean/Stud poker tables, with all wagering being "for entertainment purposes only," and attendees trading in their winning chips for chances to win one of several exciting prizes at the end of the night. The event will also feature a silent auction, plus entertainment by female Elvis impersonator Patty Elvis. Honorary chairs are long time LaCASA supporters and community leaders John and Cheryl O'Meara.

For more information about attending as an individual, couple or group, contact David Diaz, LaCASA's Special Events Coordinator at 847-244-1187, Ext. 21.

SPECIAL EVENTS

Total Lunar Eclipse

2003 provides sky watchers not one, but two, opportunities to observe total lunar eclipses visible from the Chicago metro area—the first night of May 15, and the second in the early evening of November 8. The Adler Planetarium & Astronomy Museum will present a unique lunar eclipse experience on Thursday May 15. A total lunar eclipse occurs when the full moon passes into the shadow of the Earth. There is absolutely no danger when looking at a lunar eclipse with the naked eye, telescope or binoculars, since an eclipse of the Moon only appears sometime after sunset. The eclipse will become visible to the naked eye low in the southeast at 9:03 p.m. CDT, about an hour after moonrise. The total eclipse begins at 10:14 p.m. and lasts until 11:06 p.m. The moon emerges from the dark portion of the Earth's shadow at 12:17 a.m. on May 16.

Upcoming at Barns and Noble

Judith Wright, co-founder of the Wright Institute for Lifelong Learning in Chicago, introduces her new book, "There Must Be More Than This: Finding More Life, Love, and Meaning by Overcoming Your Soft Addictions." According to Wright, our seemingly harmless, everyday habits like shopping, watching TV, or surfing the net, can actually prevent us from achieving satisfaction in our lives. Participants will learn how to prioritize and manage their time in order to achieve their goals, Thursday, May 15, 7 p.m.

James Fizzell, Master Gardener and staff horticulturist for WGN radio, will answer questions and discuss his gardening books: "Month-by-Month Gardening in Illinois, the Illinois Gardener's Guide," and the "Midwest Fruit & Vegetable Book." Just in time for the springtime planting season, Sunday, May 18, 2 p.m.

Society of Children's Book Writers and Illustrators meet monthly to share their work and discuss the challenges of succeeding in the business of children's books, Tuesday, May 13, 7 p.m.

Current Affairs Book Discussion Group will meet to discuss Michael Mandelbaum's "Ideas That Conquered the World," Wednesday, May 21, 7 p.m.

Writer's Workshop is for writers in all disciplines to read and critique their work in a nurturing atmosphere. All events are free and open to the public.

OUTDOORS

VOLO BOG

Astronomy Day, Saturday, May 10, Open House 10 a.m. - 4 p.m. The Lake County Astronomical Society is "Bringing Astronomy to the People!" Joining astronomy organizations from around the world, LCAS is one of thousands of clubs that will bring out their telescopes for viewing. The daytime gathering of displays and activities includes safe ways of observing the sun. The group will reconvene, skies permitting, for a nighttime star party (details available at the Open House). All ages are welcome. No reservations are required. For further information, phone 815-344-1294.

Bird Walks, May 11, 24; June 1, 8, 8 a.m. Join volunteer naturalist Randy Schietzelt or Joel Orlinsky to search for migrating kinglets, vireos, and warblers, along with returning nesters such as herons, rails, kingbirds, flycatchers, and bluebirds. Ideal for both novice and veteran birders, the walks last up to three hours and cover a variety of habitats. Volo Bog has binoculars and bird books available on loan to those attending. The walks are open to adults and attentive children ages 7 and up. Reservations are required; phone 815-344-1294.

Signs of Spring Hike, Sunday, May 11, 12:30 - 2:30 p.m. Volo Bog Naturalist Stacy Iwanicki will lead a hike in search of spring migrants, wildflowers, budding trees and wildlife youngsters. Participants should dress for the weather. Ages 6 - adult are welcome. Reservations are required; phone 815-344-1294.

KIDS STUFF

SuperKids summer camp

Because of the health risks associated with asthma, asthmatic children are often denied opportunities to participate in regular summer camp activities. In response, the American Lung Association is sponsoring Camp SuperKids for children with asthma. Camp SuperKids is a week-long overnight camp for moderately to severely asthmatic children. The camp is held from June 15-20 at Camp Duncan, a YMCA camping facility located near Fox Lake. Camp SuperKids is staffed 24 hours a day by trained counselors, physicians, nurses and respiratory therapists. In addition to traditional camping activities, children learn to understand and manage their illness while improving their self-esteem and confidence.

For more information about camp SuperKids or to receive an application, please contact the American Lung Association at 630-260-9600.

AUDITIONS

Protégé Philharmonic of Chicago

The Protégé Philharmonic provides a fresh and exciting professional quality music experience with innovative "open to the public" rehearsals as one of the "orchestras in residence" at the Chicago music mart in downtown Chicago. Auditions for the 2003-2004 season of the Protégé Philharmonic will take place on Saturday May 10, Saturday, May 17, Sunday, May 18, Saturday, May 24 and Sunday, May 25 in Classical Symphony Hall, The Chicago Music Mart at DePaul Center, 333 South State Street, Chicago. For more information, call 312-341-1521.

HISTORY

Photos needed

The Illinois State Historical Society is seeking photos to feature in its 2004 Historical Legacies Calendar. The persons, places or events depicted in the photos need not be well known, so long as they are about Illinois and have some historical value or interest. Black and white horizontal photos are recommended, although the Society will also accept color prints. They should be sent to the Illinois State Historical Society at 210 1/2 S. 6th St., Suite 200, Springfield, IL 62701 no later than June 30, 2003. Donors will receive complimentary copies of the final product.

Great folk artists to perform May 17

Off Square Music presents in concert at the Unitarian Church 221 Dean Street, Woodstock, "Michael Johnathon"; also "Mike and Amy Finders" May 17, at 8 p.m.

Two great folk performances in one evening Michael Johnathon is a folksinger, a songwriter, a concert performer and host of the internationally syndicated weekly radio show from Lexington, Ky., called the WoodSongs Old-Time Radio Hour. He is a talented fingerstyle guitarist and banjo player who has recorded seven CD's, to include a recording with Odetta.

At age 19, he moved from New York to Mousie, Kentucky and traveled up and down the hollers of the Appalachian mountains, learning songs on front porches from past generations, passing them on to audiences wherever he travels.

Billboard Magazine headlined him as an "Unsung Hero." He was featured on CNN, TNN, Headline News, NPR, and the Bravo Movie Channel.

check it out!

Don't miss the very talented Michael Johnathon. For more information, visit www.woodsongs.com

Mike and Amy Finders Came together in 1997, originally playing pop/rock music. Over the years, their sound has evolved into their own style of "blues folkgrass" music — a fusion of country blues, bluegrass & traditional folk sounds. Amy plays the mandolin and has a voice that has been likened to Kate Wolf and Joni Mitchell. Mike, a singer/songwriter, plays his Martin guitar in the style of Doc Watson. Don't miss this young folk duo from Iowa. Visit www.mikeandamyfinders.com.

Admission is $10 doors open at 7:30 p.m. For reservations/information, contact Keith at 815-338-5164 or at blueloom@mc.net.

PORT OF BLARNEY

Dog training classes taught through praise, not fear and without hitting

Beginning in June, The Pet Shop of Lambs Farm and Pet Sitters of America Inc. will partner to offer compassionate dog training classes to the community. Both of these well-established organizations have years of experience in animal care, and hope to provide training classes on an on-going basis. These classes follow the training approach where obedience is taught through praise, not fear, without hitting or the use of choke and pinch collars. The classes are also limited to eight dogs each, a size small enough for individual attention and problem solving. Classes are taught by Sandy Wisniewski, trainer and owner of Pet Sitters of America, Inc., a seasoned trainer with 16 years of experience, she will be at Lambs Farm to answer questions about her training style and program on Saturday, May 10, at the Bargain Bonanza Flea Market from 9 a.m. - 3 p.m., and in the Pet Shop, on Sunday, May 18, and Saturday, May 24, from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. Pet Sitters of America was established in 1987 and has quickly risen to the top 1% of its industry.

There will be three Puppy Classes for dogs 12 weeks to six months of age, two Beginner Classes for dogs older than six months, and Intermediate Class for dogs who have completed the Beginner Class. Classes begin the week of June 10, and are offered on Tuesday evening, Thursday evening and Saturday morning. Each class runs for six consecutive sessions and will be held at The Pet Shop of Lambs Farm, just off I-94 on Route 176 in Libertyville. The classes cost $150, and dogs attending should be dewormed and current on vaccinations.

Visit studios of working artists

Ten members of the Antioch Fine Arts Foundation (AFAF) will be opening their studios to the public May 17 and 18, from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. In addition, artists will be demonstrating at the AFAF Gallery. Come and visit with the artists as they work in a variety of mediums including watercolor, glass and wood. View their recent works, most of which are for sale. Maps are available from the Antioch Fine Arts Foundation. For further information, call the foundation at 847-838-2274 or stop by the Gallery located at 983 Main Street (Route 83) in Antioch.

The foundation's membership includes artists and craftsmen from Northern Illinois and Southern Wisconsin, in addition to patrons of the arts. In sponsoring this event, the foundation hopes to further its goal of promoting visual arts by "exposing area residents to the artistic talent that lies throughout the community" said Suzanne Hetzel, Founder of the AFAF.

Participating artists and their medium include Joyce Andre, watercolor; Judith Chinski, watercolor and acrylic; John and Pixie Eslinger, wood; Suzanne Hetzel, watercolor and acrylic; Virginia Morrisseau, encaustic; Catherine Nash, watercolor; Patricia Rodgers, acrylic and colored pencil; Roger Shule, watercolor and ceramic and Steve Walker, acrylic.

The gallery is open to the public from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., Thursday, Friday and Sunday, and Saturday 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. While donations are graciously accepted, admission is free. For additional information, please call 847-838-2274.

'Murder, She Hollered' held over at Apple Holler

Apple Holler announces the extension of the run of its inter active murder mystery comedy, "Murder, She Hollered." It will continue as dinner theatre at Apple Holler's Red Barn Theatre on most Saturday evenings through the end of June. For a Saturday night's entertainment, this show has it all — suspense, laughter and a delicious full-course dinner.

Held over by popular demand, "Murder, She Hollered" has been delighting audiences with its clues, comedy, and great food. The professional actors take on multiple roles, improvising as they go along.

The story line follows gangsters Bunny and Clyde, who show up at Apple Holler, inviting their friends and enemies for a dinner celebration. An offstage murder occurs, and audiences are invited to put together the clues to discover the murderer.

As the audience members arrive for wine and cheese, they are given the chance to choose new identities, with some becoming suspects in the crime. Those attending may choose to participate as much or as little as they like, or they may just watch the story unfold. Clues are scattered throughout the meal and performance. Comedy, ad-libbing, and shouted guesses from the audience make for an evening of great fun and lots of laughs.

Performance dates for "Murder, She Hollered" are nearly every Saturday night through June 28, with wine and cheese at 7:30 p.m. Dinner at 8 p.m. and the show time is at 9 p.m. The cost for "Murder, She Hollered" is $36.20, which includes Wisconsin wine and cheese, full-course meal, dessert, beverage, the show, tax and tip. Children under 12 can attend the show and meal at half price or $18.10.

A wonderful new musical revue, "Some Enchanted Evening," containing Rodgers and Hammerstein's most popular songs, will run weekdays and most Friday evenings through the end of June.

"Some Enchanted Evening" has been called "a glorious parade of genuine hits," containing more than 40 popular songs from all of Rodgers and Hammerstein's musicals. It is the same price as "Murder, She Hollered," offered as luncheon or dinner theatre.

All performances for "Murder, She Hollered" and "Some Enchanted Evening" are by reservation only. Call 262-886-8500 for further information, to inquire about the show dates, or to make reservations.

Apple Holler is located between Racine and Kenosha, on West Frontage Road, just north of the highway KR exit. Apple Holler is a restaurant, bakery, gift shop, and apple orchard, and features many entertainment activities, including the Red Barn Musical Theatre shows, children's shows, barnyard animals, outdoor lay areas for children, hay-wagon rides, horse drawn sleigh rides, a seasonal flower market, and fall apple and pumpkin festivals.

HOROSCOPE

ARIES — March 21/April 20

Progress on the workfront is all but assured this week, Aries. Don't be shy; take credit for your accomplishments. Be on the lookout for an old friend who has important news to share.

TAURUS — April 21/May 21

You're feeling a little adventurous this week, Taurus, but your schedule is not likely to let up anytime soon. That's okay; you can make plans for later.

GEMINI — May 22/June 21

A chance for you to move up in the world will become apparent this week, Gemini. Move quickly, for it won't stick around for long. Make time for that special someone this week-end — it will be appreciated.

CANCER — June 22/July 22

Relationship issues will be important to you this week, Cancer. Get answers to the questions you've been harboring deep inside. You'll grow closer to that special someone once you clear the air.

LEO — July 23/August 23

Your loving nature will attract others to you this week. However, don't just sit back and enjoy it. Reciprocate a little — that's what love is all about.

VIRGO — Aug. 24/Sept. 22

You're free to come and go as you please this week, Virgo. Creative activities will come easy to you. Do only those things that have meaning for you.

LIBRA — Sept. 23/Oct. 23

Although your nights may be warm and loving, your days look stormy this week, Libra. It's an excellent week for affairs of the heart, but it will be more difficult to deal with personalities opposite yours.

SCORPIO — Oct. 24/Nov. 22

The next few days should be a lot of fun, Scorpio. They should also be productive, as your winning ways score points with those in power.

SAGITTARIUS — Nov. 23/Dec. 21

This week, you should pay attention to how you can increase your income without adding too much pressure. Try making better use of your time. An old friend stops by to ask for help. Do what you can.

CAPRICORN — Dec. 22/Jan. 20

Your energy will be on the upswing this week, along with your assertiveness and ambition. It's time you used your remarkable potential. Make time for family this week.

AQUARIUS — Jan. 21/Feb. 18

Money may be tight this week, Aquarius, but don't sell off the family silver just yet. Good fortune is on the horizon.

PISCES — Feb. 19/March 20

Now's the time to take the bull by the horns when it comes to your hopes and dreams. You can do it! Success is just a heartbeat away this week, Pisces. A stranger will walk into your life — make him a friend.

Learn what it takes to get started in Chicago's film and theatre industry

The Improv Playhouse offers Summer Performing Arts and Improvisation training at its studio in Libertyville and The Highland Park Community House in Highland Park. Classes are being held in the mornings, afternoons and evenings at both locations. Summer sessions begin June 14-July 5, July 12-August 9, and an intensive session from August 11-15. Classes are scheduled for kindergarten through adults.

Specific prices and times are available. Call 847-968-4529 or visit the web site at www.improvplayhouse.com for more information.

Entertainment business seminar

The Improv Playhouse has a seminar for young actors and their parents in learning what it takes to get started in Chicago's film, commercial and theatre industries from 1-4 p.m., Sunday, May 18 at the Improv Playhouse Studio, Libertyville. Representatives from the Chicago entertainment industry are scheduled to speak, including Improv Playhouse professional staff. Resource and Personal Promotion Materials will be given to each participating family. Seating is limited. Phone reservations strongly suggested. $75 per two family members and $50 for single reservation up to May 15. $95 per person May 16-17. Price $125 day of event. Call 847-968-4529 or visit the web site at www.improvplayhouse.com.

'Acting skill for life' for 14-19 year olds

Saturdays, 12:30-4:30 p.m., June 14-August 16, taught by Joe Mauck: acting coach for 25 years, playwright and screen writer, American Academy of Dramatic Arts (NYC) graduate.

Each class in this 10-week workshop will include movement and vocal exercises, acting and on-camera performance terminology (a custom, video journal will be kept for each student), monologue and prose interpretation, style and scene presentation. Students will gain a clear improvement in communication skills especially in areas of specific concern to parents, such as posture, diction and pronunciation (verbal skills), and public presence. Students will discover personal potential and hidden creativity, develop self image and confidence and demonstrate practical life skills through dramatic arts training.

Call 847-968-4529 or visit the web site at www.improvplayhouse.com for more information.

Canoe race brings attention to one of Illinois' longest rivers

On Sunday, May 18, the Des Plaines River Association will hold the 46th annual Des Plaines River Canoe Marathon. The canoe race, staged to bring attention to one of Illinois' longest and most beautiful rivers, attracts paddlers from around the U.S. and from abroad.

The 19.5-mile course attracts elite paddlers with high levels of technical expertise and training, who add excitement to the event. However, the marathon is purely amateur, and the majority of our contestants are recreational boaters who come to enjoy the river with friends and family. This year, a new group registration procedure has allowed families or groups of friends to start the race together in the same heat and conduct their own "mini races."

The Des Plaines River Canoe Marathon offers 23 different registration classes to encourage paddlers of all skill levels and include many different sorts of canoes and kayaks. Each racer will be professionally timed, and receive both a T-shirt and a distinctive patch at the finish-line of the marathon.

More than 120 trophies will be awarded at a finish line ceremony at the end of the day.

The race starts at Oak Spring Road and the Des Plaines River in Libertyville and finishes at Cook County Dam No. 2 in the Cook County Forest Preserve at the corner of Euclid Avenue and the Des Plaines River Road in Mt. Prospect. The first heat will leave the start line at 8 a.m., and the race will continue until all paddlers have finished. There are two main portages, one at Ryerson Woods Dam in Lincolnshire in Lake County, and another at Cook County Dam No. 1, just off Milwaukee Ave. at Hintz Road in Wheeling. The portage spots make good spectator venues.

This year a winter drought in the Des Plaines River watershed has contributed to historically low water levels along the race-course. The low water promises to make the race more challenging, with finishing times predicted to be slower than average. Race organizers expect nearly 700 boats to be registered and more than 1,000 paddlers to participate in the Des Plaines River Marathon this year.

Applications and a course map can be obtained on-line at www.canoemarathon.com or by calling the race hotline at 847-604-2445. Entry fees are $18 per paddler. Race-day registration is available at the starting line until 9 a.m. at a cost of $25 per person. It is possible to rent a canoe or kayak for the race. A list of canoe liveries is included on the web site and on the application form.

The Des Plaines River Canoe Marathon

is organized by the Des Plaines River Association and sponsored by the Forest Preserve Districts of Lake and Cook counties. Proceeds from the event support youth paddling initiatives and organizations which further the protection and restoration of the Des Plaines River.

Pops Highwood brings great sounds for May

AT A GLANCE

Girl's death spurs new signs at park

Gurnee—Six Flags Great America is posting signs prohibiting food, drinks, gum and candy at all of its rides after an 11-year-old girl apparently choked to death on a gum-like substance while riding the Raging Bull roller coaster at the park on May 3.

Youth sentenced after leaving scene of fatal crash

Antioch—Andrew Pries, 19, of Antioch, was sentenced to six months in jail and 30 months of probation after pleading guilty to leaving the scene of a fatal accident. The crash took the lives of Jan Rodrigo Legaspi-Buduan, 16, of Lindenhurst and passenger Alex Brown, 16, of Lake Villa.

Witnesses told police they had seen a small white car, later identified as a Mitsubishi Eclipse, leave the scene. The Sheriff's Department received about a dozen calls from Antioch Community High School parents, leading to the identification of the Mitsubishi driver. Pries' sentence includes 175 hours of community service and attendance at a live victim impact panel.

Small car museum sued by Volvo

Volo—A letter "v" could make all the difference in the world for Volo Auto Museum.

The 40-year-old museum, located on Volo Village Road, finds itself in a contentious debate with Volvo of North America due to similar sounding web sites, volocars.com and volocars.com. The auto company, a division of Ford Motor Company, is proceeding against the museum's owners to the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO) over the matter.

The Grams family has operated the museum in western Lake County for four decades. It is home to 250 cars and specialty shops.

Exotic animal trainer faces numerous abuse allegations

By MARC JENKINS
Managing Editor

An animal rights activist group is urging the immediate confiscation of 98 elephants and tigers belonging to a Grayslake circus animal trainer.

People for the Ethical Treatment of Animals (PETA) responded to the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture's leveling of charges on April 9 which include alleged violations of the Animal Welfare Act against John Cuneo, owner of Hawthorn Corporation, which professionally rents and trains circus animals nationally from its headquarters in rural Grayslake.

Those accusations say Hawthorn Corp. physically abused elephants causing harm and discomfort, failed to provide veterinary care to an emaciated elephant and unsafe public contact according to PETA director Debbie Leahy.

Leahy said several of Cuneo's elephants have had deadly foot problems, human strains of tuberculosis, bacterial infections and that the animals have come in unsafe contact with the public.

"(Cuneo) has one of the worst records we've ever seen," Leahy said. "We've been monitoring Hawthorn for years. His elephants have been involved in rampages that have caused deaths and injuries."

PETA, Leahy said, is most concerned about a 51-year-old elephant named "Loda," which gained heavy to liberate the animals from Cuneo's control, it would send the elephants to a sanctuary in Tennessee, Leahy said.

"I've written to him in the past, appealing to let Loda retire," Leahy said. "He flat out refuses (to retire her). This year's charges are just some in a long history of rampages, violations and deaths linked to Hawthorn Corporation, according to a PETA timeline."

Those include:
• In 2002, Hawthorn was cited for causing behavioral stress, physical harm and unnecessary discomfort to "Delhi," an elephant, in April. Chemical burns, PETA said, were found on its feet as a result of a trainer—who would later be fired. Delhi's feet were allegedly soaked in undiluted formaldehyde, causing its front legs to swell to twice the normal size.—In October, a Virginian-Pilot story reported that a Hawthorn trainer, David Creech, was convicted on three counts of animal cruelty.

• In 2001, two Hawthorn elephants rampaged at a Charlotte, local media attention in 1990, when it was given to Hawthorn from the Milwaukee County Zoo.

"(Cuneo) made an agreement to not use her in shows," Leahy said. "He violated that agreement and now she has contracted a human strain of tuberculosis."

"We're very concerned that if she's not confiscated soon, she's going to die."

Spielman featured in national ad

By MARC JENKINS
Managing Editor

When Lake County Board member Carol Spielman (D-Highland Park) stepped off an American Airlines flight from Fort Lauderdale this winter, she got more than she bargained for.

Waiting at the arrival gate were crews filming a commercial for the airline, and Spielman was one of a handful to be approached to star in it.

"The production company asked us if we wanted to say a few words about our flight," said Spielman. "Then a couple weeks later they asked us if we wanted to come back and be in their commercial."

So Spielman and her husband, Carl, returned to O'Hare to shoot their parts. Spielman is featured in the commercial which asks random passengers how much they paid for flights.

"I said I paid $74," Spielman said. "And that I think we should go to Hawaii."

Spielman can have her wish come true. In addition her pay for the TV ad, she also had her picture taken, for a print ad, which shocked Spielman when she saw it in print.

"I was reading the newspaper at breakfast and turned the page and saw myself staring back at me," Spielman said.

Spielman, a county board member since 1992, received two tickets to any U.S. destination for appearing in the newspaper ad.

Boaters happy their season has started

By STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

Weather permitting, let the boating season, 2003, begin.

The Fox Waterway Agency (FWA) stayed busy during the winter months preparing for the season.

Projects ranged from dredging parts of the Fox River in the Cary area, a channel mouth at Holiday Hills, work on a staging area in Grass Lake and bringing equipment to its headquarters in Fox Lake.

"Boating season is generally regarded as Memorial Day to Labor Day, but we like to get the buoys out as soon as possible for safety reasons," said Lorie D. Mai, FWA spokesman.

FWA staffers are quite pleased with the results of the improved buoy marking system.

The buoys are expected to last for five years or more. This is the second year with the U.S. Antons system.

"These buoys are one of the best investments made by the FWA. They are well lit and more durable, providing a safer waterway for the users," said Rob Rinkenberger, buoy and navigational supervisor.

The construction of the staging area off Grass Lake is proceeding on schedule. The FWA will use the site to store miscellaneous equipment and essentials. With the cooperation of the Illinois Department of Natural Resources, the construction was able to begin early this winter, with an approximate completion date for late in 2004.

Ackerman Island is also being maintained, and future engineering investigation to upgrade this sediment drying site, the only drying site the agency has available, is on going. The FWA continues to be on the lookout for potential sites.

Mai said that the agency has been "very busy" with sticker sales.

On the hill, not over it

Stalwart Crane still going strong after 30 years as congressman

By STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

As a visitor walks into the office of U.S. Rep. Phil Crane, one can see photos as well as some humorous cartoons from Crane's 1980 presidential bid. One noticeable one has then leading candidate Ronald Reagan, leaning to the right because of Crane's bid.

Some 23 years later, the Republican Crane is still going strong, with enthusiasm against big government. His favorite phrase is "the government that governs least, governs best," and is readying for yet another re-election bid in 2004.

Crane spoke on a Friday afternoon, the day after President Bush (whose father George H.W. Bush was in that same presidential race with Crane), made history by flying an aircraft onto the battleship USS Lincoln.

"It was unique in that it was the first time, in war or peace, I believe, that a sitting president has flown an airplane. He paid tribute to the troops who had served in Iraq," Crane said.

Trade matters continue to be one of Crane's top priorities, as he is chairman of the trade sub committee. His latest effort, a "Job Protection Act of 2003," would save 45,000 Illinois manufacturing jobs. The package was announced last week in a bipartisan group.

The bill would bring the United States within World Trade Organization (WTO) compliance and at the same time, protect U.S. manufacturing jobs. Action comes as in recent months, the European Union (EU) has threatened to impose a $4 billion in trade sanctions on U.S. companies unless FSC-ETI is repealed. Crane and Charles Rangel (D-New York), and Don Manzullo (R-Ill.) have been working together with other lawmakers and a coalition of companies to craft a solution. The proposal would phase in a permanent corporate rate reduction that would reduce the corporate tax rate on the net income of domestic production activities.

"Trade is not a Republican or Democrat issue," Crane said, citing the support from both parties.

"We all agree that we must repeal the FSC-ETI exemption and replace it with a WTO-compliant solution. The issue is how best to do it. Our plan would bring U.S. tax laws into compliance with the WTO rules, as well as to provide incentives for domestic job creation by U.S. companies and foreign subsidiaries operating in U.S. territory. This is a crucial component to any good solution," Crane said. "The elimination of the dividend tax will create 250,000 jobs a year over the next five years.

According to a Price Water House Coopers study, about 3.5 million jobs in the United States are attributable to U.S. companies that benefit from the FSC-ETI tax benefit. Its repeal will result in an increase of more than $50 billion over the next 10 years in the manufacturing base, which has been stagnant.

Crane said that small businesses account for a huge number of jobs.

Crane is proud of the nearly $80 million in improvements that he has brought back to his suburban district of Lake, McHenry and Cook counties. "But Illinois is still a have-not state when it comes to getting money from Washington. And the people in Springfield learned from the people in Washington," he said. "We get back about 70 cents on the dollar what we send to Washington. It is naïve for people to look to Washington to solve their problems."

Crane, of Wauconda, and his wife Arlene, have been married for over 41 years and had eight children and five grandchildren.

The former college professor who succeeded present Secretary of Defense Don Rumsfeld in Congress, is chairman of the subcommittees on trade and health. He is vice chairman of the Ways and Means Committee. He was in line for that chairmanship of the taxation committee, but Rep. Charles Thomas of California won the nod of Republicans instead. In addition to photos of himself and Mohammed Ali, he points to a visitor, various knick-knacks and trophies presented from taxpayers' groups. He has earned "waivers" from his House colleagues to continue in those leadership positions.

His 30 years in elected office in Washington, D.C., has not been without its challenges. He overcame an alcohol problem that led him to take a leave of absence from Congress. He has been criticized by some for taking too many trade-related, out-of-country trips. Last year, he defeated Melissa Bean of Barrington in the general election, though, to win another term. He is already facing an early primary challenger for 2004. "He is ready for 2004," says spokesman Sara Perkins.

Through it all, Crane stays focused on the task at hand.

"I think that Laos is more up to speed for a free trade agreement than Vietnam is at this point. We are also working on Singapore, Chili, Caribbean and South America, and the Hemisphere Free Trade agreement soon," Crane said.

Local Lake County projects that he supports include work to improve the Squaw Creek Ecosystem Restoration and work for the Des Plaines River. He also supports the Lake County Watershed Plan implementation.

Transportation projects that Crane supports in FY 04 include: U.S. Route 12 and Quentin Road intersection improvements in Lake Zurich; widening Washington Street from Cemetery Road to Six Flags entrance; Midlothian Road - Lake Zurich High School entrance; a bypass in two phases for U.S. Route 45 in the Millburn area and double tracking of the METRA's North Central Line, the second largest commuter rail system, serving 8 million residents of northeast Illinois.

N.C. church, causing a reported $75,000 in damages.

•In 1999, Hawthorn allegedly tried to use an elephant named "Frieda" in a public exhibition, because it had rampaged several times while touring with a circus. Frieda was back with a traveling circus in May 2000.

•In 1996, two Hawthorn elephants, suffering from tuberculosis, died within days of each other in August.

•In 1995, a Hawthorn worker was allegedly instructed to beat an elephant with an ax handle, while food deprivation and electric shocks from a cattle prod were used on an elephant.

•In 1994, an elephant, "Tyke," crushed her trainer to death in an Aug. 20 incident in Honolulu and injured two others and wreaked havoc on the city's downtown streets during rush hour. Police shot the elephant 87 times before it died. In December, a Hawthorn elephant died of tuberculosis.

•In 1993, "Tyke" caused the following: On April 21, it ran out of control at an Altoona, Penn. mosque, causing 4,500 children to flee. The following day, Tyke attacked a tiger trainer and on July 23, at the North Dakota state fair, Tyke trampled and injured a handler while running amok for 25 minutes.

•In 1988, a handler was observed beating an African elephant in public where the elephant was screaming and bending down on its legs to avoid being hit. The handler, John Caudill, was said to admit to disciplining the elephant after it hit his brother and put a hole in his back with its tusk.

•In 1978, a Hawthorn elephant picked up her trainer with her trunk and threw him into a pillar, killing the trainer.

Cuneo and his company have had official charges brought forth only twice, said USDA spokesman Jim Rogers. The USDA regulates the Class C animal handlers' licenses, which Cuneo has. Rogers confirmed that those prior charges were dismissed—one in March 1998 and another in May 1996. Both times, Cuneo settled out-of-court for fines of $60,000 and $12,500 respectively in administrative court proceedings.

"He did have his license suspended for 45 days in 1998 and for 21 days in 1997," Rogers said. "You can look at the violations and make your own judgments. We have those who have violations and we have those who don't."

In 1997, CNN reported that a 3,000-pound baby Asian elephant, was stuck in an airplane hangar in Miami, later touching off an investigation which led to Cuneo's 21-day license suspension.

According to the story, the elephant was "detained and denied travel into Puerto Rico, where he was to have performed because the USDA believes (it) may have tuberculosis."

"Cuneo... knew about the elephant's illness when he tried to take the animal out of the country. In a phone interview (with CNN)... Cuneo denied the allegation."

"We had a permit for Puerto Rico, and they knew about the TB and chest X-ray," Cuneo said in the CNN story.

Cuneo was not immediately available for comment on Wednesday, the day the allegations and charges against Hawthorn and Cuneo were brought to Lakeland Newspapers' attention.

At last count in 2001, Rogers said, there were 2,549 Class C licenses for exhibitors of animals. Cuneo has 60 days to respond to the current USDA charges, levied April 9.

Mailbox food drive is coming May 10

On May 10, letter carriers in more than 10,000 cities and towns across America will deliver much more than mail when they walk and drive along their postal routes. They will also collect the goodness and compassion of their customers participating in the 11th annual National Association of Letter Carriers' (NALC) National Food Drive.

Last year in Lake County, both city and rural letter carriers collected over 72,000 pounds of nonperishable food donations left by mailboxes and in post offices and delivered them to local community food banks, pantries and shelters in 23 towns.

This year, the drive is expected to bring in even more food. The president of the Lake County Rural Letter Carriers, Patti Hurley, will assist the efforts again this year by reaching out to even more of her fellow carriers—virtually every rural carrier in Lake County working under different unions.

The effort by members of the National Association of Letter Carriers (AFL-CIO) and the other volunteers is the largest one-day food drive in the nation. It has resulted in delivery of more than 525.1 million pounds of donations to community food banks and pantries nationwide over the past ten years.

United Way of Lake County, the only local organization focused on addressing the critical needs of the community, helps the local NALC branch locate and evaluate the food pantries which will receive the donations.

How you can help

All you need to do is to place a box or can of nonperishable food next to your mailbox before your letter carrier delivers mail on Saturday, May 10. The carrier does the rest. The food is taken back to a postal station, sorted, and then delivered to an area food bank or pantry where it is available for needy families.

Stukel demystifies status of U of I

C riss-crossing Lake County a few weeks ago on a day-long publication relations visit, University of Illinois President James Stukel brought a message that at various times was perplexing, exasperating and inspiring. Sound confusing? Could be, but that's the job of the president of a major research university and a world class educational institution—administering a complicated business with a $3 billion budget and leading a great school to greater glory.

Stukel, the 15th U of I president and first alum to serve in the presidency, himself becomes perplexed putting down what he termed myths associated with the university, that it's not affordable, that students graduate burdened with debt and that the school has a bloated bureaucracy. Stukel explained that students from families with less than $40,000 income pay no tuition; four-year graduates have a "manageable" $14,000 to $16,000 to pay off and that the U of I administrative overhead is lower than comparable universities.

No stuffy academic, Stukel brings the practicality and preciseness of his engineering background to the presidency. He explained the importance of research as a "magnet for federal funds" and financial support from private industry. The typical faculty position at the Urbana-Champaign campus attracts $200,000 in "outside" funding. He said the average faculty pay is about $80,000 annually. "That's a good return," Stukel emphasized.

The University of Illinois is very cognizant of maintaining "Top 10" standing in as many fields as possible, Stukel explained, because the prestige ranking is important in recruiting top flight faculty members, obtaining grants and endowments, and securing jobs for graduates. "Quality equates to opportunity," the president said succinctly referring to the jobs outlook of graduates.

Without question, a major frustration for U of I leaders these days is diminishing state support for the flagship university, down now to 27 percent and falling. Each year the school relies more heavily on non-tax income to maintain academic quality and research leadership that results in such advancement as the development of the internet browser, which has resulted in a virtual cyber revolution.

Ponder this conundrum as described by Dr. Stukel during his visit here: Private giving is an absolute necessity for the U of I to remain a top public educational institution.

He didn't say so, but Stukel indicated a well-honed magic wand appears to be standard equipment for a university president these days.

Risk squander of Forest support

B y pushing what amounts to an elitist and blank check agenda for developing the Fort Sheridan Golf Course, commissioners of the Lake County Forest Preserve District are in danger of undermining the strong public support for future acquisitions of public open space.

The Forest Preserve District has enjoyed a remarkable run of bond issue support in an era when tax referenda, particularly for education rate increases for funding public schools, routinely are rejected by voters. Expressing their desire for more open space and displaying a growing understanding of the link between rooftops and higher taxes, Lake County residents have opened their pocket-books three times in the last decade to replenish Forest District coffers for more land purchases.

That reliable support could be facing a reevaluation as commissioners develop the Fort Sheridan golf course in a manner inconsistent with prudence and public needs. Public discourse on plans for upscale, expensive-to-play, tournament-style golf at Fort Sheridan for the most part has been negative. Under the guise of economic development, the district's Thunderhawk layout, west of Zion, already fills that bill. We hear people saying that the Forest Preserve District doesn't need another expensive, difficult golf course.

When Fort Sheridan was shut down as an Army post, the Forest Preserve inherited a broken down, ill kempt layout as part of an open space package. There is no doubt that the course needs refurbishing, but estimates of $8 to $9 million for a course with a "private club" atmosphere appear to be excessive.

The Forest Preserve District operates courses at Brae Loch and Countryside that are priced right and a joy to play for a majority of golfers. Fort Sheridan should be in that category, too.

VIEWPOINT

Hometown honors late Gov. Stratton

W illiam G. Stratton, one of four Lake County residents to serve as governor of Illinois, will be memorialized Sunday, June 1, with the dedication of the Stratton Room at the new township center in Ingleside. He was born and raised in Ingleside.

The public is being invited to join Mrs. Stratton, who resides in Chicago, and guests for ceremonies honoring a governor generally regarded as one of the top Illinois chief executives of modern times and a public administrator without peer.

Theme of the program will be "Remembering Bill Stratton." Among those attending will be former classmates and Fox Lake-Ingleside residents who remember the late Republican governor as a youngster and teenager.

The two-term governor, first elected in 1952, is remembered elsewhere with a building in Springfield bearing his name, Fox River locks at McHenry in his name and a park in Morris, where he made his home while serving as governor. Mrs. Stratton said she is thrilled to have his hometown bestow an honor, the first in Lake County.

Following in the footsteps of his father, who served as Illinois secretary of state and director of the Illinois Dept. of Conservation, Gov. Stratton provided nearly five decades of prominence in a politically volatile state where only the Daleys of Chicago could be compared.

As chief executive, Bill Stratton had a near photographic memory for names, faces and places, according to retired newspaperman Ed Nash, who will be one of the dedication speakers. "The governor could tick off bridges being replaced, new stretches of highway being built, who was doing the work and the local political leaders who authorized the work. He was uncanny," marveled Nash, who covered the second Stratton term as a Springfield correspondent. Stratton's two terms were unmarked by scandal.

The Stratton Room will contain photographs, other memorabilia being gathered by members of the Fox Lake/Grant Township Historical Society and an oil portrait being painted by Jean Weliver, an art teacher, professional portraitist and a resident of Ingleside.

Coming and going

When it comes to longevity in public office, two persons stand out in the thankless and challenging job of serving on a board of education. Nancy Pez has retired from the Wauconda Unit District BOE after devoting literally thousands of hours to the non-paying job. In the recent election, Dr. Ed May was returned to the Warren High School board—for a third stint. "I guess being a board member is in my blood," observed May, a retired Condell Medical Center radiologist. The same can be said of Pez who served 20 years.

Lauds immigrant education bill

By Maru Tomusiak

W hen I was a young girl, while talking with my father, he told me about how important it was to pursue an education. He said, "Education is the synonym of freedom." I was 10 then, and with that naive, childhood innocence, I looked at him with incredulous eyes. Since those were the times when you never contradicted your parents, I did not reply anything. However, as soon as I could, I ran to look it up in the dictionary. Sure enough, there it was. Education was not listed as a synonym of freedom. My father was wrong—or so I thought.

My father's approach to upbringing included among many other things, sending me to the very rural, poor community he had come from. He said he did it so that I could live with poor people and learn to understand their suffering and struggling. He wanted me to remember it forever. He wanted me to be sensitive to their needs and learn, why, education is the synonym of freedom. There it was, when seeing the chains of ignorance, lack of knowledge and information, and therefore opportunities for these people, for the first time and ruing several years, I learned and understood the righteousness

Newly appointed Lindenhurst Trustee Mark R. Federman really is a newcomer to village politics. Swearing in was the first time he attended a council meeting. Federman replaced newly elected Mayor Jim Betustak, who likes the new trustee's business background and skills in human resources.

Standing alone

State Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis (R-Zion) stood alone among the Lake County delegation in the Illinois Senate, voting against a bill requiring a public body to keep a verbatim record when they adjourn to a closed session by using an audio or video tape record. The measure designed to protect citizen right to know was supported by State Sen. Susan Garrett (D-Lake Forest), State Sen. William Peterson (R-Long

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

No more music

After reading Jack Martin's letter chortling over his "Anti-Tax" victory I am reminded of the saying "A man who knows the price of everything, but the value of nothing." It appears that Mr. Martin doesn't realize that the ultimate price for some of the cuts will be the children and students of the school districts.

I saw this first hand the other night during my son's concert. The kindergarten class and first grade class had their first concert at Meadowview School in Grayslake. The look on the children's faces as they sang and said their lines was priceless. My son was so excited afterwards because he got to perform in front of an audience and from the other voices in the school hall way that evening many other students and parents were also very happy. Unfortunately the music program at Meadowview is scheduled to be eliminated next year due in part to a referendum failure.

There won't be a concert next year, but Mr. Martin and his followers will be able to keep some more of their hard earned money.

Other districts will also have cuts. How many students will have nothing to do after school because a program was eliminated or cut back? How many students will never have the opportunity to perform in sports, act in plays, or play in a music program. Perhaps Mr. Martin can offer them a job so they can learn valuable business skills such as union bashing.

Running roughshod

There are a lot of unfortunate aspects to the Cook Memorial Library board meeting of May 6.

The rump election of a slate of officers, read by one of the Gang of Five from prepared copy, was highlighted by a solid 5-2 vote on every member of the "Gang Slate."

Incredibly, the candidate for vice president, Jack Martin, voted against himself to be elected and yet the Gang voted him in. There is no doubt that if Martin and Forester were to make a motion to change a burned out light bulb, the Gang of Five would have voted against them.

To add to the ignominy of the evening, the hired hand lawyer ruled over and over again that every point brought up by the minority members was wrong. The Gang was adamant in trashing Robert's Rules of Order and made a special demonstration of interrupting Tom Forester, a newly elected minority member.

The unconcern of rules was so gross that the chair himself even made a motion, approved by the Gang 5-2. The preparer of the agenda, the outgoing president, even made sure that there was no public comment period specified and when the undersigned brought this to the attention of the chair, he belatedly and scornfully agreed and ruled to make it item 14 at the end of the agenda.

The protest, that all past agendas had the comment period early on as the third item was met with cruel, stony silence from the chair. This, in spite of the chair jumping around the agenda like a drunken cowboy, first choosing one item out of order and them another. Perhaps the most flagrant disregard of proper board leadership and protocol this attendee has ever witnessed.

With a dismissive, "The referendum is history," the chair trivialized the outcome that district voters had delivered a smashing "no" message to the board by a 2-1 margin for the third consecutive time. This Gang of Five could care less what the voter thinks and several were heard under their breath to advocate a placement on the ballot of another referendum for the next election.

Maybe they could go for $50 million this time with a gross cost over $100 million since the last $27.7 million would have cost over $90 million according to some reports widely circulated. To show how hard and heavy the Gang's train was coming down the track, they stripped a full six year membership from the top vote-getter in the April action and by a slight of hand "lottery" administered by the head librarian and executed by the hired hand lawyer made Jack Martin into a two-year member.

The old Soviet Politburo would have been proud of the Gang's scheme, carried out with stone faced precision and complete disregard of the written ruling by Lake County Clerk Willard Helander.

Her clear, written ruling on the matter, championed by Martin and Forester was over and over. Truly, fairness and justice never had a darker day.

On the move

Sheriff Gary Del Re has been tending to health problems that require time with the medics. Note to Del Re watchers: Doctoring accounted for his absenteeism. Now that the sheriff is feeling better, he'll be out and around more. One high profile event he's sure to attend is the third annual Sheriff Gary Del Re Golf Outing set for July 23 at Antioch Golf Club. The sheriff's outing will afford an opportunity to show off the course's new club house.

Fair under siege

McHenry County Fair President Chris Dahm is waging a battle to relocate fairgrounds from the current Woodstock site earmarked for a new supermarket to a new home on 122 acres north of the city that can be purchased for $1.92 million. An anti-Dahm faction says the fair can't afford the move.

Lots of openness

On a junket to visit Africa where son Johnathan is stationed with the U.S. State Dept., Libertyville Supervisor Betty-Ann Moore had an opportunity to compare public open space initiatives. Moore visited a

Thinking of Mom on Mother's Day

In my many years as a newspaper columnist I have written about my dad, my four brothers, various pet dogs and cats, but never about my mother.

I suspect the reason is something like a basketball writer covering Chicago Bulls games told me: "It's so frustrating trying to write about Michael Jordan. No matter how well I write my story, trying to describe what he did, it's never as good as what he did. The words don't seem to be available."

The basketball reference is appropriate here. My brothers and I all played basketball, so Mom must have attended hundreds of games. Her five sons were almost her whole life.

We played in every park, in every gym, on every track and in every woods in our hometown, but Mom liked it best when we played at home where she knew we were close by and safe. Our lawn usually had four bare spots because of the heavy traffic at home plate and the three bases.

Of course, we had a basketball hoop and, at various times, a high-jump and pole-vault pit, and a line of hurdles.

There also was an apple tree that was great for climbing. After the five sons came

THE PFARR CORNER

Jerry Pfarr

16 grandchildren, and the joke was that you could shake that tree at any time and a few little Pfarrs would come falling out.

When I was a little twerp my ambition was to someday pitch for the Cubs. When I had no one else to play with, I would spend hours in baseball cap and glove, throwing a tennis ball against the back of our house and fielding it on the rebound.

One day when I was grown and visiting Mom, one of my nephews was out there doing the same thing. I had never realized how irritating was that constant "thump, thump, thump" of the ball hitting the house.

Yet, Mom had never complained to me about it. I guess it was enough for her to know I was in our yard and enjoying myself.

We were poor during the Depression, but we were happy and clean. The sisters at St. George School used to praise Lucille Pfarr, noting that "all five of the Pfarr boys have a clean and ironed shirt every day."

During the 1940s three of my brothers went off to war. So Mom wrote three letters a day with the news from home. And prayed. They came back safely.

And she was Mom to more than her five sons. We had a five-bedroom house and our friends were always hanging around or sleeping over. There would often be more than five for breakfast. Stan, "Swede," Bill and "Fritz" were just a few of our buddies who called our mother "Mom," just as we did.

Our Dad, in his later years, became a little hard of hearing and was apt to doze off in his easy chair. When Mom wanted to talk to him and he wasn't hearing her, she sometimes would fling a small pillow across the room, bouncing it off his head. They would both laugh at that.

Unfortunately, my wife learned that prank from my mom and now I'm the one getting hit by the pillow.

Thanks, Mom.

COMMENTARY

of my father. Yes, "Education is the synonym of freedom."

Little did my father know at the time and much less I, that by doing that, he was giving me the tools and training that I would be using several decades later, in serving the very poor, the most under-served, the most underprivileged in the Greater Round Lake Area. However, there again, I realized that the biggest obstacle these people have is freeing themselves from the chains of ignorance, lack of knowledge and information. I remembered my father's words—"Education is the synonym of freedom."

Years had gone by, when I found myself telling the same thing to my child. He, just as I did, looked at me with incredulous eyes. But I, just as my father had done, knowingly did nothing in hope that one day, he will understand and enforce that—"education is the synonym of freedom."

I guess that is why I became a fervent lover of education. That is why, I do believe that education is and should be an unalienable right, available to every single human being regardless of anything.

In a country, that proclaims itself as the paladin of freedom, education should be first and foremost and should be available to everyone. Because of that, I would like to send a hardy, hurray. To the state senators and representatives, including State Rep. Mark Beaubien and Senator Steve Rushemberger, who have worked so hard to approve the Illinois bill HB60 which will give many immigrant teenagers the opportunity of going to college, of becoming educated—because "Education is the synonym of freedom" because they will be making this state a freer, better place to live.

Editor's note: Maru Tomusiak is executive director of Mano a Mano Family Resource Center, a helping hand organization for underprivileged Lake County residents. She is a resident of Fox Lake.

CLC dean honored by Girl Scouts

Dr. Sandria Rodriguez, dean of communication arts, humanities and fine arts for the College of Lake County, was one of 11 Chicago area women chosen by Girl Scouts-Illinois Crossroads Council to receive the Woman of Achievement Award. Dr. Rodriguez was chosen for her contributions to the community in the field of education. The award was presented to her at the Celebration of Achievement event at Illinois Crossroads Council's corporate center in Vernon Hills. The annual event highlights women who are excellent role models for girls. Also honored at the community reception were Senior Girl Scouts who have earned the Girl Scout Gold Award.

Dr. Rodriguez is the author of "Giants Among Us: First Generation College Graduates Who Lead Activist Lives." Active in the community, she is involved in NICASA Lifestar and Teen Reach Programs, the two year college association for Teachers of English, the National Council of Instructional Administration, the Keith Ryan Scholarship Committee, the National Association of Teachers of English, and ACCION International. She received the Damen Award for 2003 from Loyola University's School of Education, the NICASA Volunteer of the Year Award (2002), the Most Outstanding African-American of Lake County Vision Award (2003), and the National Association of University Women Outstanding Educator Award (2001). Dr. Rodriguez received a BA in English from Shaw University, an MA in literature from Northeastern Illinois University, an MA in educational administration and supervision from Roosevelt University, and Ph.D. in higher education from Loyola University, Chicago.

Rodriguez

Garcia is a consultant and has served as a loan officer, assistant vice president, and branch manager of mortgage companies. Her community involvement includes membership on the Lake County Chamber of Commerce board of directors, the Fair Housing of Lake County Board of Directors, Mano a Mano board of directors, and the Chicagoland Northwest Association of Realtors. Garcia is the incoming chair for the 2003-2004 Hispanic Chamber of Commerce of Lake County board of directors and the chair for the community service committee of the 2003 Rotary Club of Waukegan board of directors. Prior community affiliations include serving as the president of North School and Abbott Middle School PTOs and on the board of directors of Parents Anonymous, and the board of Catholic Charities. She was one of four recipients of the Bank of America Lend Award for Community Service. Garcia received her education in Alice, Tex.

County to fight harder against mosquitos

Management of mosquito populations in Lake County Forest Preserves has begun for the 2003 season following action taken by the Forest Preserve Board of Commissioners.

The new Mosquito Management Policy was prepared with input from state and county public health, mosquito and conservation experts, and emphasizes strategies consistent with those recommended by the Centers for Disease Control.

As prescribed in the new policy, the Lake County Forest Preserves are working with Clarke Mosquito Control to identify sites where the types of mosquitoes capable of transmitting West Nile virus to people may be breeding. Monitoring will begin at such locations this spring, and a targeted larvicide will be applied at sites identified through the monitoring. The larvicide is a bacteria, Bacillus sphaericus, that targets only mosquito larvae and is considered safe to other aquatic organisms and to birds and other wildlife.

Only in extreme circumstances will the Forest Preserve District consider spraying to kill adult mosquitoes because of the potential for ecological damage, and questions about the effectiveness of spraying, according to the approved policy.

The District said it will control only those mosquitoes that pose a significant health risk to preserve visitors or adjacent neighbors, not nuisance mosquitoes that do not pose such a health risk. Healthy, diverse natural areas found in Forest Preserves have natural predators and processes that keep nuisance mosquitoes in balance with their environment.

The Lake County Forest Preserves have a West Nile Virus Information Sheet summarizing Forest Preserve mosquito management efforts available for download from its web site at www.LCFPD.org or upon request by calling 847-367-6640.

CARMEL HIGH SCHOOL DIGEST

Students go to capitol

Carmel was one of about 20 high schools to participate in Illinois' Capitol Forum on America's Future held in Springfield. Secretary of State Jesse White welcomed the 150 student participants and applauded the efforts of the students, the teachers and their school for addressing and debating the challenges the nation faces.

CHS students attending included Paul Albano of Libertyville, Anthony Andreasik of Hawthorn Woods, Caleen Kennedy of Grayslake and Ashley Turkington of Lake Zurich. Faculty moderator Sharon Smogor accompanied the group.

Graduation

The Seniors Honors Assembly will be held on Friday, May 23 at 8:30 a.m. in the Patrick A.

Salvi Arena. Undergraduates along with parents and family of graduates will assemble to recognize the accomplishments of the Class of 2003. Following the ceremony, seniors are invited to attend a brunch in their honor at the Country Squire Restaurant in Grayslake. The Baccalaureate Mass and Graduation will be held on Sunday, May 25 at 10 a.m. A reception for graduates and their families will be held immediately following the graduation ceremony.

Walkathon

The 24th annual WALKATHON took place on Friday, April 25. Over 1,400 members of the student body and faculty completed the 10K walk on the grounds of St. Mary of the Lake Seminary. Over the last 20 years, more than $1 million has been raised for Carmel through the fund-raiser.

Center to host summer camp for those with special needs

The Center for Enriched Living, a life enrichment and skill development center for children and adults with developmental disabilities, is gearing up for summer activities by offering current and potential members the opportunity to save money by registering early for the center's Summer Adventure Camp.

This social and recreational program is designed for children, teens and young adults ages 9-21 with developmental disabilities. Peers are grouped by age, interests and ability level. The camp is offered five days a week, Monday through Friday, from June 23-Aug. 1 at the center, located at 280 Saunders Road in Riverwoods. Participants are welcome to attend one day a week or up to five days a week. Activities planned for Summer Adventure

Camp include recreational swimming, arts and crafts, sports, games, music and dance, computer fun, community outings and much more.

Participants who register before April 21 will receive special reduced camp rates. Nonmembers or campers new to the center must complete an initial intake process by June 1. Please call Jim Finlay, outreach coordinator, at 847-948-7001 for more information.

The Center for Enriched Living provides skill development and education for greater independence, community integration, recreation, and social programs for people with developmental disabilities. This non-profit organization, welcomes new members, volunteers and donations. For further information call 847-948-7001.

Cosmetic surgery—Go for it, but—

Know your doctor, know your doctor, know your doctor. That's the best advice anyone can give you. The American Society of Plastic Surgeons advises that you select a doctor who is certified by the American Board of Plastic Surgery (ABPS). You can be sure then that he or she is a professional who has graduated from an accredited medical school, and has completed a combination of at least five years of additional training as a resident surgeon. This includes a minimum three-year residency in an accredited general surgery program and an additional two-year residency in plastic surgery. Afterward, in order to become certified, he has to pass both comprehensive oral and written exams.

You want a surgeon who has been certified by the ABPS mainly because there is always some risk associated with any kind of operative procedure. You at least want to be assured that the doctor you have chosen is among the 'la creme de la creme.'

There is no other factor that may affect the results of cosmetic surgery as strongly as the doctor's level of experience. Make sure you ask about the doctor's experience regarding the specific procedure you are considering. The doctor should offer to show you before-and-after photographs of some of his patients who have had the procedure done. Also, talk to your friends and find out who they know who has had cosmetic surgery. Get the names of the doctors they used and inquire about their personal experiences. Keep in mind, your appearance depends upon your doctor and his skill at making you look good.

Example, one of my friends had his upper and lower eyelids done. The bags and wrinkles which were previously pronounced, as well as the folds of excess skin that made Howard's upper lids droop, were gone. In my opinion, that surgery erased 15 years from his face. Howard looks great, and says he feels fantastic. The doctor he used might be a very good choice for anyone considering the same procedure.

ON CALL

The terms, plastic and cosmetic surgery, are often used interchangeably to mean the same thing. In actuality, cosmetic surgery is listed as one form of plastic surgery. Plastic surgery is generally described procedure that is done to change some aspect of a person's appearance or function. Often considered to be elective — not done for medical reasons — there are times when medical and functional reasons validate the need for plastic surgery. There are also some medical conditions that can cause problems which may be improved by plastic surgery.

Someone who opts to have cosmetic surgery is usually unhappy with some aspect of his or her appearance, such as the above-mentioned wrinkles or bags around the eyes, an unflattering nose, breasts that are considered too large or too small, or excess adipose tissue around the mid section.

Another area of plastic surgery is reconstructive surgery. The patient may have a noticeable disfigurement such as a scar, skin condition or malformed body part. This could be the result of an injury, disease, or birth defect and have a strong impact on his or her life by negatively affecting social interaction, employment opportunities and even self-esteem. I had a very informative chat with Dr. Osmar Steinwald, a Board Certified Plastic Surgeon, whose practice is in Lake Forest, and who has appeared on Oprah Winfrey's show. Although his specialty is reconstructive hand surgery, he also performs numerous cosmetic procedures such as facelifts, nose and eyelid surgery, breast augmentation, liposuction and tummy tucks.

Dr. Steinwald said, "Anybody can claim he is a cosmetic surgeon. Ear, nose, and throat people are doing it. Some dermatologists are doing liposuction. There are some who are good. Liposuction has gotten a lot of bad publicity because you don't have to be certified by any organization to do it."

There are most definitely people out there performing plastic surgery who should not be. In most states a licensed physician can perform plastic surgery without being board certified. Again, check credentials and qualifications, and make sure your doctor is board certified by the American Board of Plastic Surgery.

To locate a certified plastic surgeon in your area, you can check the web site of the American Board of Plastic Surgery: www.abplsurg.org, or the American Society of Plastic Surgeons at www.plasticsurgery.org. You can also call the latter at 1-888-4-plastic (1-888-475-2784).

Health Department adds up pounds

The Lake County Health Department/Community Health Center estimates that adults in Lake County altogether are more than 4 million pounds overweight.

The Health Department announces this figure to stress that obesity has hit epidemic proportions. Studies indicate that approximately 30 percent of adults (over the age of 20) nationwide are obese.

"Obesity is the result of excessive calorie consumption and inadequate physical activity," said Toby Smithson, a Health Department dietitian and spokesperson for the Illinois Dietetic Association. "Seventy-five percent of Americans are not getting the daily recommended amount of physical activity."

To accomplish the recommended physical activity levels, one doesn't need to spend hours at the gym. One can partake in a number of activities, such as pushing a stroller, gardening, stair climbing, walking, dancing and bicycling. Following are more tips to promote healthy eating and active living:

- Select sensible portion sizes of food. For example, feed your kids "kid-size portions" rather than super-size portions. Parents need to help direct their children to understand proper portion sizes. It's the responsibility of the parent to offer healthy foods, but it's up to the child to eat them.

- Skip the fast food and buffet lines as a way to make low-fat food choices. Generally, fast food and buffet style restaurants fail to offer low-fat choices and do not help with portion control. If fast food is the only option, choose baked or broiled foods and watch the mayonnaise.

- Eat no more than 500 to 600 calories per meal. If you eat at a restaurant, save part of the portion for later. Restaurant size portions are often more than double the appropriate adult portion, ranging from 1,000 to 1,500 calories.

- Walk whenever you can—get off the bus early, park the car further away or leave it at home.

- Use multiple strategies, such as make more low-fat food choices and simultaneously start an exercise plan. It is important to monitor what you eat while staying in shape. One doesn't work without the other.

The Health Department calculated the 4 million pounds overweight figure by taking 30 percent of the adult population in Lake County, which is 132,746, and multiplying that by 30 (obesity is defined as 30 pounds or more over a healthy body weight). The total came to 3,982,380.

The Health Department offers programs to promote healthy eating, and physical activity, which are risk factors that affect the obesity and overweight epidemic. For more information, please call the Health Department's general health education programs at: (847) 377-8110.

Attention training can help correct many attention problems

Hi Dr. Singer,

I've seen you write for a long time about how you are not a fan of medication when it comes to attention problems in kids. My question to you is this: when you have a child who is always on the go and does not sit for anything, including meals, what else can you do? Do you believe any of the symptoms are about attention? I am not that keen on pills either, and would prefer to do anything else but that, but if I'm not going to do that, I have to have something else to depend on because I can't keep up with this kid. L.M.

Hi L.M.,

Sounds like you have your hands full! Never fear...in most cases there are alternatives to medication for most attention problems. First I will say that I definitely agree that there is a set of symptoms that can be grouped together and called attention problems. I always have. What I have never agreed with is that all attention problems are medical in origin. I just don't believe that. Not with all I have seen. There are many successful alternatives to significantly improving attention skills and helping kids learn to control themselves. That is really the main key here. Do you believe in the ability of your child to control his or her behavior without medical help? Many parents would look at their out of control child and think...never in a million years could this child control him or herself. But, many of the parents and kids I have worked with just hadn't learned the right things to do, to help that child learn that self-control. Once the right things were being done and practiced, things settled down completely. If you practice the wrong thing long enough, it becomes habit. Conversely, the sooner you practice the right thing, the faster you change it!

In fact, that is the root of most of the attention problems I see. Bad behavior patterns have been allowed to go on too long. Bad messages and bad practice. Don't get me wrong here. I am not accusing parents of being negligent. More often it is about parents not knowing the next thing to do or not being consistent with doing the next thing. It is also difficult for some parents to hold kids responsible for out of control or off-task behavior. Once a child realizes that there is no consequence for standing while you eat dinner, if it feels good, they'll do it all the time. Just ask any of the families I have worked with whose kids did that regularly and stopped permanently when we used some very appropriate consequences for those actions. Bad behavior patterns are the norm and not the exception. Not because there are lots of bad kids, but because all kids are human as are all parents and we all do things that are not necessarily the best thing to do, but seem right at the time. So, we forgive ourselves, correct it and move on. Correcting it is easier than you think.

PARENT'S PLACE

Going off-task and losing focus is a behavior like any other behavior. That is why it responds so well to the same interventions that other behaviors do and why I have seen it get better so many times.

Kids are naturally energetic. They also naturally get bored by things that are monotonous. They don't naturally stay with something uninteresting. If you remember back to your childhood, you didn't either. I would lay odds on it. The only reason a child ever stays with something uninteresting is because they are taught to and they practice it. Also, if something says they have to, there is more of a chance they will. If there is nothing there to make sure that happens, kids will do what comes naturally...only what is fun to them.

Children who are having any kind of difficulty with processing skills can also go off track and it is also logical why this happens. Difficulty causes stress which causes avoidance. Thus, anything else becomes interesting. The avoidance is what is mistaken for a lack of focus and attention. This is also a normal response to a weak skill. No brainer!

Even if a parent really wanted to go with medication for a child, you have to realize that the problems that existed to begin with do not go away just because the child uses medication. In addition to the medication, parents need to be changing behavior patterns and making sure that processing skills are working correctly so the child isn't faced with extra stress and a need to avoid. If anything, if a parent were totally supportive of medication, a short time on it, while focusing on treating the root causes (processing problems, behavior/self-control issues) would be the least intrusive way of handling it. A Medical Doc would need to be involved in that decision.

•If you are concerned that your child is having a medical problem, you need to seek the advice of a Medical Doctor. Do not remove any child from medication without the advice of your Doctor.

A Lifestyle of Vibrant Health and Energy

Dear Mary Chatman,

A few months ago, I read an article in a National Magazine about Dr. Robert Young and his pH Miracle Products and how people were getting their health back by drinking a green drink. While at a Health and Wellness expo in Milwaukee, I ran across a couple who was middle-aged like my husband and me. Although my husband and I are slightly overweight and always tired, this couple was full of energy, their skin glowed, and they looked great. I asked them what they were doing to stay so vibrant. They told me that they were drinking Dr. Young's SuperGreens for ideal nutrition. My husband and I deserve to live again. We want to lose weight and get our health back too! Where can we find these products?

Sincerely, Judith A. Lake Bluff, IL

Dear Judith,

I did some research and found out that InnerLight is a company that was founded over twelve years ago. InnerLight offers unique nutritional products for health and wellness, including the SuperGreens green energy drink that you heard about. Dr. Robert Young, nutritionist and author of SICK & TIRED and THE pH MIRACLE is the creator of the InnerLight products.

According to Dr. Young's research, the solution to a healthy lifestyle is not counting calories, fats, carbs or points. The solution is to alkalize the body by superhydrating with SuperGreens with Prime pH which causes fat to melt away. The signs of health are then reflected: energy and vitality, clear bright eyes, mental clarity and concentration, and a lean, trim body. So, you begin to restore health, balance, and harmony to your body. If you are interested in losing weight for the summer, you may want to check out their Lighten Up! Weight Loss pack, which contains the SuperGreens, the prime pH and an Anthony Robbins' Power Talk! Audio program interview with Dr. Young.

The InnerLight Lighten Up! Program is based on solid, foundational principles of health and nutrition that have worked for thousands of people. So, it may work for you. Good News! I discovered that there is a local distributor in the Lake County area. You can email Terry Douglas, an Independent InnerLight Representative at healthph@att.net. For more information on InnerLight's health and wellness products, you can visit them online at: www.innerlight-inc.com/healthph

AREA GOLF SCENE

Price is right for Lake Geneva's 'golf around the lake'

Ready for some golf? Lake Geneva area golf courses certainly are ready for you.

Golfers awaiting the spring thaw can look no further than the legendary resort town of Lake Geneva, Wisc. and nearby communities where they can take advantage of the "Golf Around the Lake Spring Spectacular" special promotion running through May 23.

Golf is king and savings abound as six of the area's top courses have teamed up to offer 36-hole golf packages available Sun.-Thurs. It promises to be the perfect early season golf getaway for players of every skill level.

"Golf Around The Lake" is a project of the Lake Geneva Golf Council, a consortium of six members courses founded in 1998, to market the Lake Geneva Area as a golf destination. Participating courses include Abbey Springs Golf Course, Evergreen Golf Club, the Palmer, Trevino and Player courses at Geneva National Golf Club, the Brute and Highlands courses at Grand Geneva Resort, Hawks View Golf Club and Hillmoor Golf Club.

'Golf Around the Lake' features three packages, each which includes 36 holes of golf on two courses, complimentary electric golf cart and extensive flexibility and significant incentives. Choice of packages include:

"Spring Play all Day" featuring 36 holes of golf on the same day.

"Spring Play & Stay Around the Lake I" featuring 36 holes on the same day with overnight accommodations at selected lodging establishments offering vastly reduced rates plus a complimentary round at the new Hawks View par-3 18-hole Barn Hollow course.

"Spring Play & Stay Around the Lake II", which features 18 holes of golf on day 1, overnight accommodations and 18 holes of golf on day 2 plus a complimentary round at the new Hawks View par-3 18-hole Barn Hollow course.

Course combinations include: $79 (Eagle) for the first round at Geneva National or Grand Geneva and the second round at Abbey Springs or Hawk's View; $69 (Birdie) for the first round at Evergreen or Hillmoor and the second round at Geneva National or Grand Geneva; and $59 (Even Par) for the first round at Abbey Springs or Hawk's View and the second round at Evergreen or Hillmoor.

"Our Golf Around the Lake promotion is a terrific deal and great for avid golfers who can't wait to hit the course this spring, as well as novice golfers as the rates are extremely reasonable," said Stephen Magnuson, chairman of the Lake Geneva Golf Council.

For reservations or more information, call any of the participating courses: Abbey Springs Golf Course 262-275-6611; Evergreen Golf Club 262-723-5722; Geneva National Golf Club 262-245-7000; Grand Geneva Resort 262-248-8811; Hawks View Golf Club (toll-free) 877-HAWKS VU (429-5788); and Hillmoor Golf Club 262-248-4570.

Participating hotels and resorts include: Delavan Lake Resorts 800-430-8164, Grand Geneva Resort 262-248-8811; Geneva Inn 800-441-5881; Country Inn 262-245-5220; Harbor Shores 888-746-7371; and The Cove 800-770-7107.

The Lake Geneva area is located just 90 minutes from Chicago's O'Hare International Airport and 45 minutes from General Mitchell International Airport in Milwaukee. For a complimentary guide of area activities and

Grand Geneva Resort is just one of six participating courses in the Lake Geneva Golf Council's special "Golf Around the Lake" play and stay promotion which runs through May 23 and offers 36 holes of golf on any two courses for one low price. ## Chicago Baseball Cancer Charities

Foursomes are still available for Chicago's oldest and most prestigious golf tournament.

More than 300 amateur golfers are expected to join over 75 sports and media personalities on Mon., July 7 for the 33rd Annual Chicago Baseball Cancer Charities golf tournament. The event will be held at Twin Orchard Country Club in Long Grove. In addition to an 18-hole round of golf, participants will enjoy breakfast, lunch, cocktail hour, a silent auction and the Hallmark Awards Dinner.

Past participants have included Michale Jordan, Mike Ditka, Ryne Sandberg, Carlton Fisk, Jeremy Roenick, Digger Phelps, Ron Kittle, Bill Melton as well as several other members of Chicago's professional sports teams and media personalities.

Since its inception in 1971, the Charities has raised over $10 million for cancer patient care, education and research programs.

For further information or to sign up, please call 312-926-7777.

Highland Park Golf Course will be one of the host courses for the Second Annual Youth Classic.

This event is for players aged 3-22 and encompasses players throughout the United States. More than 500 competitors from 15 states played in the event last year.

Entries will be accepted through June 18. The fees range from $50-110, depending on the division each player is eligible.

The event features a practice, longest drive, closest to the pin and longest putt contest, followed by two days of competition.

The field is comprised of 16 divisions. Golfers are placed into flights of roughly 16 players after the first round. Trophies are awarded to flight winners.

For further information, please check out the web site at www.countryyouthclassic.com.

Outings

Swing into Spring

The Lupus Foundation of Illinois will hold its eighth annual golf outing, "Swing into Spring" June 6 at the Brae Loch Golf Course in Grayslake.

Registration will begin at 9 a.m. with a shotgun start featuring a scramble format starting at 10.

All are welcome for a buffet luncheon overlooking the golf course with a raffle, best foursome and live and silent auctions.

Donations of items or services for raffle prizes will be appreciated.

The cost is $1,000 to help sponsor the event, $100 for golf, cart and lunch, and $40 for the luncheon only. In addition, the cost for a corporate foursome will be $500, while hole sponsors start at $75.

The Lupus Foundation of Illinois works on behalf of the estimated 65,000 lupus patients throughout the state, providing information, education and support to those affected by the disease and supporting lupus researchers. The foundation's goal is to defeat lupus and eradicate its unpredictable and devastating effects.

COLLEGE SPORTS REPORT

AREA ATHLETES MAKING THE GRADE

Trio of Lady Lancers to invade Iowa Wesleyan

By STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

Three standout players who led the College of Lake County women's basketball team to a .500 season will be playing basketball next winter in Iowa. Together.

Iowa Wesleyan College, an NAIA school, has netted the Lancers' Karen Davidson, Becky Holem and Amy Mueller.

Holem scored 10.7 points per game for the Lancers this winter. She was also one of the nation's leading rebounders in junior college women's hoops with 11.5 per game. A knee injury cut short her sophomore season. Holem, 5-foot, 10-inches, is a Grant High graduate.

"She has had the surgery, and expects to be back in 6-7 months. I expect all three will play the same roles there as they did for us," said CLC coach Bill Braman. "It is very unusual to have all three go to the same school."

Davidson, a 5-foot, 6-inch guard known for her hustle, averaged 7.9 points per game last year. She is a Grant graduate as well.

Mueller, from Antioch, averaged 5.9 points per game. She shot 39 percent from the field, 54 percent from the free-throw line, and scored 172 points this winter.

Holem was named all-Skyway Conference for the 16-16 Lancers.

Iowa Wesleyan head coach Seychelle Mahoney was thrilled to land the trio for the Mt. Pleasant, Iowa college.

"I met with coach Braman and got some tapes of the players. They saw us play in a game in Davenport. We're building a foundation for the future. I'm in my second year as head coach and I need some impact players. I'm bringing in eight junior college players," Mahoney said.

Holem is the "perfect size for our league. She will play the post. Karen can handle the ball. Amy can shoot on the drive," Mahoney added.

Iowa Wesleyan, which plays in the Midwest Classic Conference, was 4-21 last year.

Danielle Jakes, a softball player from Grant, already attends the school.

A fourth player for the CLC team going onto play next year is Jenni Malueg, 5-11, who will attend University of Wisconsin-Parkside. A Round Lake graduate, she averaged 15 points per contest.

Braman said that during his tenure at CLC, the Lancers have had chances to play at four-year schools every year.

Wynne joins elite crowd as CLC signees

Grant High basketball standout Andrew Wynne will be playing next year for the College of Lake County Lancers starting next school year.

John Hartmann

CLC coach Shawn Chism announced that Wynne and Austin Yarc of Libertyville have given verbal commitments to attend the junior college.

"He will be a great fit for CLC, coming in with Yarc. They will be a great one-two punch for CLC," said Wynne's high school coach, Phil Ralston.

Wynne, a 6-6 forward, averaged 16.3 points per game and 7.5 rebounds for the Bulldogs. He also had 4 assists and 2 steals per contest. Grant had an 18-win season, including winning the Marengo Christmas tournament and a post-season game with North Chicago. Grant shared the NSC Prairie Division title with Zion-Benton.

"It (CLC) will be a good way for him to sort out the future. We knew that he could go from Division I to Division III," Ralston said.

CLC plays in the Skyway Conference. "It will be good because I will be able to see Andrew play often," the coach noted.

Ralston said that the Bulldogs' other senior standout, C.J. Walleck, is weighing college offers.

Wynne was named fourth team IBCA All-State team and was Lakeland Newspapers' Most Valuable Player.—Steve Peterson

CLC Athletes of the Week

Female

Softball pitcher Kristin Elstrom, a former Antioch High standout and graduate, was awarded the honor last week. Kristin earned the recognition after posting a 2-0 mark for the week that included wins over Waubesa and Morton. In 14 innings of work, she scattered nine hits, struck out seven, walked none, and surrendered only one earned run for a sparkling .05 earned run average. She also had five assists on the defensive side.

Male

Lancer pitcher Chris Malec won the honor last week. Malec, a former Antioch High standout, was 2-0 with an ERA of 1.92 in 14 innings of work. His wins included a victory over Skyway Conference champ Elgin and Skyway rival Waubesa.

The Lancers wound up finishing third in the league.

Other regional news, notes

Elmhurst College

Baseball

Former Wauconda Bulldog Ken Shipbaugh tossed four scoreless innings while allowing just two hits in earning the victory as Elmhurst defeated Illinois Benedictine 6-3. Teammate, former Antioch High standout Brad Groth went 5-for-5 with an RBI and three runs scored.

Men's track and field

John Hartmann (Wauconda H.S., Island Lake) is a returning member of the Bluejay men's track and field team.

Hartmann, a junior jumper, is a geography and environmental planning major. As a freshman, he qualified for both the indoor and outdoor nationals and was the top-ranked freshman high jumper in the country.

Hartmann is also a member of the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity and the Student Athletic Advisory Board on campus.

He is the proud son of John and Donna Hartmann of Island Lake.

While a Wauconda Bulldog, Hartmann competed in track and field as well as cross-country in the fall.

Teammate Pete Bebbler (Wauconda H.S., Island Lake) is also a returning member of the Bluejay men's track and field team. A junior sprinter, pole vaulter and decathlete, Bebbler is a business administration major and Spanish minor at Elmhurst.

Bebbler also graduated from Wauconda High School and lives in Island Lake as well.

Pete Bebbler

He is the proud son of Thomas and Mary Ellen Bebbler of Island Lake.

Illinois State University Women's soccer

Former Libertyville High soccer standout Joyce Kleinheinz scored a goal in the Redbirds 4-1 victory over Valparaiso in a four-team tournament in Normal. ISU then beat Western Illinois in the semifinals. Kleinheinz is currently a sophomore at ISU.

University of Wisconsin (Madison)

Women's golf

Former Carmel High standout and Waukegan native Carl Gregorin helped the Lady Badger women's golf team earn a berth in the NCAA Central Regional to be played May 8-10 at the Firehorn Golf Club in Lincoln, Neb.

Gregorin, currently a senior, also helped the team finish second at the Big Ten Championships held in April.

She rebounded from an opening round 88 to post scores of 78-76 and 83 to finish in 52nd place individually. As a team, the Badgers fired a four-golfer score of 325.

CORSAIR SPORTS NOTEBOOK

Boy's volleyball

It was a tremendous run while it lasted, but the Carmel boy's volleyball team suffered its first loss of the season, losing to Vernon Hills in the championship game of the Glenbrook North Invitational. The loss snapped the Corsairs 23-match win streak. The 23 wins still, however, shattered the school record for wins in a season.

Both teams had headed into the finale with identical 4-0 records. Vernon was a little too strong in the end, winning the match 15-8, 8-15, 15-1.

Top players for Carmel for the tournament included Danny Bryant with 39 kills, six solo blocks and 17 digs and Eddie Bartnicki with 25 kills and 22 solo blocks. Other playing well included Phil Bartnicki (17 kills, 19 digs) and Mike Schuster (83 assists, eight kills, 18 digs).

Bryant was named to the All-Tournament team.

Carmel's 23-game winning streak marked the third best winning streak in Illinois High School Association history.

The team's record of 24-1 also marks a new school record for wins in a season.

They quickly rebounded from that first loss of the season in cruising past cross-town rival Mundelein 15-3, 15-8. Joe Hammer had two solo blocks and one assisted block while Eddie Bartnicki added two solo blocks. Danny Bryant was 8-for-9 hitting with 9 digs and Phil Bartnicki 8-of-10 hitting with 8 digs.

In serving, Matt Zwolski was 12-for-13 serving with three aces and John Geske 16-of-16. Bryant and Hammer also nailed five and six kills, respectively.

Schuster was the setting workhorse, dishing out 16 assists. He also had one kill.

The Corsairs, now 25-1 and 6-0 in the ESCC, next host ESCC foe St. Joseph on Thurs., May 8 at 6 p.m.

Baseball

It was the tale of two cities for the Corsairs, as they split an ESCC doubleheader with host Benet.

In game 1, Carmel held a 6-1 lead after four innings. But then the roof caved in as the Redwings scored 15 runs in the bottom of the fifth to come away with a 16-6, 5-inning win. Kevin McMahon smacked a round-tripper and Sean Walker a double in the losing effort. The Corsairs shot themselves in the foot, allowing nine walks and nine hits in Benet's explosive fifth frame. Ryan Myers suffered the loss on the hill, dropping him to 3-2 on the year.

But as all good teams do, Carmel rebounded for a 12-8 victory.

Walker went yard, while McMahon added a triple and Nate Rittenberry a double.

Walker paced the offense with four RBI. McMahon added three and Dave Kleeber two.

McMahon's 3-run triple highlighted a 6-run sixth inning for Carmel, which had trailed 7-4 heading into the inning.

Kleeber had a clutch 2-run single while Rittenberry got the win in relief after tossing the final three innings. He allowed only two hits.

Carmel, which improved to 16-6 overall and 9-3 in the ESCC, will travel to Lake Forest for non-conference action beginning at 4:30 p.m. The Corsairs will then host ESCC rival Nazareth Academy in double-header action Sat., May 10. The first game will start at approximately 10 a.m.

Judson happy staying at NIU

By STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

Rob Judson is very pleased to be staying put at Northern Illinois University.

Pete Weber, the ex-Southern Illinois University head coach, earned the nod to be the next head coach at University of Illinois, not Judson. Weber replaces Bill Self, who left for Kansas.

Judson's Huskies were 17-14 last season, advancing to the semi-finals of the Mid-American Conference tournament.

"Tuesday (April 29) they contacted me and said that they had hired someone else. But I am real excited about our future here. We have Marcus Smallwood, who was all-MAC last year, back," Judson said.

Smallwood, from Elgin, was the leading rebounder and top slam-dunk specialist.

Mike Morrison, the only Lake County connection on the roster, a senior from Deerfield, won the team's heart award. Smallwood and P. J. Smith shared the team's MVP honors.

Judson was 12-16 in his first year in DeKalb, followed by the 17-win season last year. He has area ties, as the former U. of Ill. Assistant was head coach at Wauconda. He is the son of Phil Judson, of the fame Alden-Hebron '52 state champion team.

"Marcus and Perry led this year's team to 17 wins and each contributed in many ways besides their scoring. Marcus was ranked among the league leaders in rebounding and blocks, while Perry was second on the team in assists and steals. We're looking forward to them leading this program to an even higher level next season," Judson said in a post-season press release.

Father Time, Wilmot look to mesh

By PAUL KUYAWA
Wilmot Correspondent

There's an old saying, "The best laid plans." Local Motion Entertainment, Wilmot Speedway promoting group, has been behind the 8-ball since signing their contract to bring racing action to fans at the Wilmot Speedway.

The biggest problem has been the wet weather. Whenever it looked like they could start moving dirt, the rains came.

"We'd lose a couple days of work every time it rained. Right now it's just a matter of time until the Wilmot Speedway will be up and running," said co-promoter Gary Brown.

Race fans will certainly like the changes that are being made. Racers and fans have been looking for some changes at Wilmot for some time. And it appears that Local Motion Entertainment is ready to step up and make it happen.

Wilmot Speedway will once again host winged sprint cars, IMCA modifieds and the hobby stocks. Drivers that compete regularly at the Wilmot Speedway are chomping at the bit with anticipation, as they wait for the season opener.

It's been 30 years since this track first opened, and it seems fitting that major changes come 30 years after the speedway opened its gates.

Promoters Mike Simons and Gary Brown are making some very big changes to the Wilmot Speedway. Brown added, "Everyone will be impressed. Both drivers and guests can take that to the bank."

Officials will announce opening day just as soon as they know everything is in perfect operating order. The Wilmot Speedway web site will be up and running soon. For more information you can reach the track at 262-862-2446 or the Local Motion Entertainment office at 262-279-3892.

ATTENTION PET OWNERS We Do Not Knowingly Accept Ads For Free/Giveaway Animals

If you must give up your beloved pet, please consider these suggestions.

*Free animal ads suggest that there is something wrong with the animal, or that it has no value.

*Some people who respond to these free animal ads are imposters and are only concerned about making a profit and not the animal's welfare.

*Charging a fee to a potential pet owner confirms the responsibility of pet ownership for an entire lifetime of that pet. For more information, please contact the Humane Society.

ARE YOU SPRING CLEANING?? GET RID OF THE CLUTTER AND RUN A FREE or GIVEAWAY Ad in the Lakeland Classifieds. Free and Giveaways are run at NO CHARGE! (We discourage any pet ads). Deadlines: 10am Wednesdays. (847) 223-8161, ext. 191.

Job Change Is A Tough Decision

By Scott T. Fleischmann

One of the most difficult decisions that most employees face is whether to stay in a current job or to start a job search. It is difficult because few of us have the ability to tell the future.

There is risk involved in these decisions. Here are two examples: A single mom decided to change jobs, primarily because of the autocratic style of her current manager. One month after she made that switch to a different company, the old boss was introduced to her as her new boss. In another situation, a friend who was offered a great opportunity decided to stay with an organization because of the security that the old, established firm offered. A year after he made that decision the organization was dissolved because some unethical business practices that misstated the companies financial position. In retrospect, both decisions were bad choices. Yet, both people did a thorough analysis in order to make the best decision possible. So how can one make the best job decision possible? A few simple steps will help.

• Firstly, if there is significant immoral, unethical or illegal activity at ones current employer, it is time to find work elsewhere. Granted, in our specialized society few employees get to see the global perspective that a thorough vision of these problems demands. But when issues of that gravity are identified and internal attempts to resolve them are unsuccessful, it is probably best to leave. Find another job. However, it is necessary to define the significance of the immoral or unethical behavior. The primary issues are that a company is engaged in activity that is not what it appears and is endangering life. For example, there is the legend that a company was selling baby formula that it knew was not providing the needed nutrition. It is legal to put an incomplete product on the market. Although if they are selling it as a complete product or one could reasonably expect it to be a complete product it is immoral.

• Those who do not enjoy their jobs need to make a decision. The severity of the situation is again the key. If all of the positive thinking, prayers and attempts to change the situation have not helped, it may be time to look for a new job. The severity can often be measured by the symptoms: Serious emotional illness, is a good indicator that a change is needed. Sleeplessness, loss of appetite, ulcers, and other stress related disorders are indicators that a change may be needed.

• For those who want a responsibility change, a job change may be needed. In the past, employees were typically looking for jobs that gave them more responsibility, and subsequently more pay. Recently, I have talked to many people who are looking for less responsibility. They are doing this to avoid stress, to spend more time with family or to spend more time on hobbies. The question in this case usually is the balance. At what point do the material things that the money from our jobs can buy lose meaning because of holes in other areas of life? These are not easy decisions, and each person needs to evaluate the benefits and liabilities on a periodic basis. Those who do not use criteria, such as those listed above, could make that decision based make an emotional decision. That is never a good choice.

Pet OF THE WEEK

Hi, My name is Skip and I'm an adorable Cairn Terrier Mix. I'm not quite 2 years old yet, but I've been fixed and have gotten all my shots. Unfortunately, I was mistreated by youngsters, so I don't get along well with kids. But I'm very affectionate with adults and consider myself the perfect companion for a single person or a couple who do not plan on having children. My fur is a creamy color, and people consider me a tomboy because of my tousled look. For more information on adoptions, call the Assisi Animal Foundation at: (815) 455-9411

 NOTICE TO BIDDERS

LINCOLNSHIRE-PRAIRIE VIEW SCHOOL DISTRICT #103
 The Board of Education of the Lincolnshire-Prairie View School District #103, Lake County, Lincolnshire, Illinois, will receive sealed bids until 2:00 P.M. local time, May 29, 2003, in the Business Office, 1370 Riverwoods Road, Lincolnshire, Illinois for Carpet Project.

At 2:00 P.M., all bids that are received will be publicly opened and read aloud in the Business Office.

All prospective bidders are required to review said specifications and requirements prior to submitting their bid. Bid specifications may be obtained through the Business Office, 1370 Riverwoods Road, Lincolnshire, Illinois 60069.

All bids must be accompanied by Certificates of Insurance and such other documents as required in the specifications.

There will be a mandatory walk through and measurement at Daniel Wright Junior High School on Monday, May 19, 2003 at 9:00 a.m. All bidders must attend this in order for their bid to be considered.

Where applicable and appropriate, the general prevailing rate of wages in Lake County, Illinois shall be paid for each craft or type of workman or mechanic needed to execute the contract or perform such work.

Sealed bids shall be addressed to Lincolnshire-Prairie View
 School District #103, Business Office, 1370 Riverwoods Road, Lincolnshire, Illinois 60069.

The Board of Education reserves the right to accept or reject any or all bids and to waive any informalities in bidding.
